Part One

Scene 1 (Act1 Sc1/Sc3)

A Chamber in the Duke’s Palace

Enter the Duke, Escalus and Servant

Duke Escalus.

Escalus My lord.

Duke Of government the properties to unfold would seem in me to waste both speech and discourse, since I am put to know that your own science exceeds in that the lists of all advice my strength can give you. The nature of our people, our city’s institutions and the terms for common justice y’are as pregnant in as art and practice hath enriched any that we remember. There is our commission, from which we would not have you warp. Call hither,
I say, bid come before us Angelo.

Exit Servant

What figure of us think you he will bear?
For you must know we have with special soul elected him our absence to supply, lent him our terror, dress’d him with our love and given his deputation all the organs of our own power. What think you of it?

Escalus If any in Vienna be of worth to undergo such ample grace and honour it is Lord Angelo.

Duke Look where he comes.

Enter Angelo

Angelo Always obedient to your grace’s will
I come to know your pleasure.

Duke Angelo,
there is a kind of character in thy life that to the observer doth thy history fully unfold. Thyself and thy great virtues are not thine own so proper as to flourish unobserv’d. Heaven doth with us as we with torches do, not light them for themselves. For if our virtues go not forth of us 'twere all alike as if we had them not. But I do bend my speech to one that can my part in him advertise.
Hold therefore, Angelo.
In our remove be thou at full ourself.
Mortality and mercy in Vienna
live in thy tongue and heart. Old Escalus, though first in question, is thy secondary.
Take thy commission.

Angelo

Now, good my lord,
let there be some more test made of my metal before so noble and so great a figure be stamp’d upon it.

Duke

No more evasion.
We have with a leaven’d and prepared choice proceeded to you. Therefore take your honours.
Our haste from hence is of so quick condition that it prefers itself and leaves unquestion’d matters of needful value. We shall write to you how it goes with us and do look to know what doth befall you here. So, fare you well.
To the hopeful execution do I leave you of your commissions.

Angelo

Yet give leave, my lord,
that we may bring you something on the way.

Duke

My haste may not admit it.
Angelo, your scope is as mine own,
so to enforce or qualify the laws
as to your soul seems good. Give me your hand.
I’ll privily away. I love the people but do not like to stage me to their eyes.
Though it do well, I do not relish well their loud applause and ‘Aves’ vehement, nor do I think the man of safe discretion that does affect it. Once more, fare you well.

Angelo

The heavens give safety to your purposes!

Escalus

Lead forth and bring you back in happiness!

Duke

I thank you. Fare you well.

Exit
Escalus  I shall desire you, sir, to give me leave to have free speech with you.
A power I have, but of what strength and nature
I am not yet instructed.

Angelo  ’Tis so with me. Let us confer together and we may soon our satisfaction have, touching that point.

Escalus  I’ll wait upon your honour.

They sit and open their commissions

Enter the Duke and Friar Thomas apart

Duke  No, holy father, throw away that thought.
Believe not that the dribbling dart of love can pierce a complete bosom. Why I desire thee to give me secret harbour hath a purpose more grave and wrinkl’d than the aims and ends of burning youth.

Friar  May your grace speak of it?

Duke  My holy sir, none better knows than you how I have ever lov’d the life remov’d and held in idle price to haunt assemblies where youth and cost – witless bravery – keep.
I have deliver’d to Lord Angelo,
a man of stricture and firm abstinence,
my absolute power and place here in Vienna and he supposes me travell’d to Poland,
for so I have strew’d it in the common ear and so it is receiv’d. Now, pious sir, you will demand of me why I do this?

Friar  Gladly, my lord.

Duke  We have strict statutes and most biting laws,
the needful bits and curbs to headstrong weeds,
which for this fourteen years we have let slip,
e’en like an o’ergrown lion in a cave that goes not out to prey. Now, as fond fathers, having bound up the threat’ning twigs of birch,
only to stick them in their children’s sight for terror, not to use, in time the rod becomes more mock’d than fear’d. So our decrees, dead to infliction, to themselves are dead
and liberty plucks justice by the nose,
the baby beats the nurse and quite athwart goes all decorum.

Friar
It rested in your Grace
T’unloose this tied-up justice when you pleas’d, and it in you more dreadful would have seem’d than in Lord Angelo.

Duke
I do fear, too dreadful.
Sith ‘twas my fault to give the people scope
’twould be my tyranny to strike and gall them for what I bid them do. For we bid this be done when evil deeds have their permissive pass and not their punishment. Therefore indeed, my father,
I have on Angelo impos’d the office who may, in the ambush of my name, strike home and yet my nature never in the fight to do it slander. And to behold his sway
I will, as ‘twere a brother of your order, visit both prince and people. Therefore, I prithee, supply me with the habit and instruct me how I may formally in person bear me like a true friar. More reasons for this action at our more leisure shall I render you.
Only, this one: Lord Angelo is precise, stands at a guard with envy, scarce confesses that his blood flows, or that his appetite is more to bread than stone. Hence shall we see, if power change purpose, what our seemers be.

Exit Duke and Friar

Angelo
‘Mortality and mercy in Vienna
live in my tongue and heart.’

Scene 2 (Act1 Sc2)

A Brothel. Early morning

Lucio and Froth, with Bridget and other whores asleep

Lucio
They say this Angelo was not made by man and woman, after the downright way of creation. Is it true, think you?

Froth
How should he be made, then?
Lucio  Some report a sea-maid spawn’d him. Some, that he was begot between two stockfishes. But it is certain that when he makes water his urine is congeal’d ice. That I know to be true. And he is a motion ungenerative, that’s infallible.

Froth  God save the good Duke. Would he had never gone to Poland.

Lucio  Poland?

Froth  Ay, sir. Those were his givings out.

Lucio  Of infinite distance from his true-meant design. Your good Duke has appetites will not be cool’d in Poland. He would rather –

Enter Mistress Overdone and Pompey

Behold, behold where Madam Mitigation comes! I have purchas’d as many diseases under her roof as come to –

Froth  To what, I pray?

Lucio  Judge.

Froth  To three thousand dolours a year?

Lucio  Ay, and more.

Froth  Thou art always figuring diseases in me. But thou art full of error. I am sound.

Lucio  Nay, not, as one would say, healthy. But so sound as things that are hollow. Thy bones are hollow. Impiety has made a feast of thee. How now, mistress, which of your hips has the most profound sciatica?

Overdone  Well, well, there’s one yonder arrested and carried to prison was worth five thousand of you all.

Lucio  Who’s that, I pray thee?

Overdone  Marry, sir, that’s Claudio, Signior Claudio.

Lucio  Claudio to prison? ’Tis not so.

Overdone  Nay, but I know ’tis so. I saw him arrested, saw him carried away. And, which is more, within these three days his head to be chopp’d off.

Lucio  But, after all this fooling, I would not have it so. Art thou sure of this?

Overdone  I am too sure of it.

Lucio  What has he done?
Pompey  A woman.
Lucio  But what’s his offence?
Pompey  Groping for trouts in a peculiar river.
Overdone  H’as got Madam Julietta with child.
Lucio  Believe me, this may be. He promis’d to meet me two hours since and he was ever precise in promise-keeping.
Froth  Besides, you know, it draws something near to the speech
we had to such a purpose.
Lucio  But, most of all, agreeing with the proclamation. [To Overdone] You have not heard of the proclamation, have you?
Overdone  What proclamation, sir?
Lucio  All houses of resort in the suburbs of Vienna must be pluck’d down.
Overdone  And what shall become of those in the city?
Lucio  They shall stand for seed. They had gone down too, but that a wise burgher put in for them.
Overdone  But shall all our houses in the suburbs be pull’d down?
Lucio  To the ground, mistress.

Exit Lucio

Overdone  Why, here’s a change indeed in the commonwealth! What with the pox, what with the gallows and what with poverty,
I am custom-shrunk. What shall become of me?
Pompey  Come, fear you not. Good counsellors lack no clients.
Though you change your place, you need not change your trade. I’ll be your tapster still. Courage! There will be pity taken on you – you that have worn your eyes almost out in the service – you will be consider’d. [To Froth] Come, sir, shall I wake Bridget, sir?

Scene 3 (Act1 Sc2)
A Street
Enter Provost, Claudio and Officer

Claudio  Fellow, why dost thou show me thus to the world?
Bear me to prison, where I am committed.
Provost  I do it not in evil disposition,
but from Lord Angelo by special charge.

Claudio

Thus can the demigod Authority make us pay down for our offence by weight the words of heaven – ‘on whom it will, it will,
on whom it will not, so’. Yet still ‘tis just.

Enter Lucio

Lucio

Why, how now, Claudio! Whence comes this restraint?

Claudio

From too much liberty, my Lucio. Liberty, like surfeit, is the father of much fast.
So ev’ry scope by the immod’rate use turns to restraint. Our natures do pursue, like rats that ravin down their proper bane,
a thirsty evil. And when we drink we die.

Lucio

If I could speak so wisely under an arrest, I would send for certain of my creditors. And yet, to say the truth, I had as lief have the foppery of freedom as the morality of imprisonment. What’s thy offence, Claudio?

Claudio

What but to speak of would offend again.

Lucio

What, is’t murder?

Claudio

No.

Lucio

Lechery?

Claudio

Call it so.

Provost

Away, sir, you must go.

Claudio

One word, good friend. Lucio, a word with you.

Lucio

A hundred, if they’ll do you any good.
Is lechery so look’d after?

Claudio

Thus stands it with me: upon a true contract
I got possession of Julietta’s bed.
You know the lady – she is fast my wife save that we do the denunciation lack of outward order. This we came not to only for propagation of a dower remaining in the coffer of her friends, from whom we thought it meet to hide our love till time had made them for us. But it chances the stealth of our most mutual entertainment with character too gross is writ on Juliet.

Lucio

With child, perhaps?
Claudio  Unhappily, even so.
And the new deputy now for the Duke –
whether it be the fault and glimpse of newness, or whether that the body public be a horse whereon the governor doth ride who, newly in the seat, that it may know he can command lets it straight feel the spur, whether the tyranny be in his place or in his eminence that fills it up I stagger in – but this new governor awakes me all the enrolled penalties which have, like unscour’d armour, hung by the wall
so long that fourteen zodiacs have gone round and none of them been worn. And for a name now puts the drowsy and neglected act Freshly on me. ‘Tis surely for a name.

Lucio  I warrant it is.
And thy head stands so tickle on thy shoulders that a milkmaid, if she be in love, may sigh it off.
Send after the Duke and appeal to him.

Claudio  I have done so but he’s not to be found.
I prithee, Lucio, do me this kind service:
this day my sister should the cloister enter and there receive her approbation.
Acquaint her with the danger of my state, implore her, in my voice, that she make friends to the strict deputy. Bid herself assay him.
I have great hope in that, for in her youth
there is a prone and speechless dialect such as move men. Beside, she hath prosperous art when she will play with reason and discourse, and well she can persuade.

Lucio  I pray she may. As well for the encouragement of the like, which else would stand under grievous imposition, as for the enjoying of thy life, who I would be sorry should be thus foolishly lost at a game of tick-tack. I’ll to her.

Claudio  I thank you, good friend Lucio.

Lucio  Within two hours.

Claudio  Come, officer, away!

Exeunt
Scene 4 (Act1 Sc4)

A Nunnery

Enter Isabella and Francisca

Isabella
And have you nuns no farther privileges?

Francisca
Are not these large enough?

Isabella
Yes, truly. I speak not as desiring more, but rather wishing a more strict restraint upon the sisterhood, the votarists of Saint Clare.

Lucio
[Within] Ho! Peace be in this place!

Isabella
Who's that which calls?

Francisca
It is a man's voice. Gentle Isabella, turn you the key and know his business of him. You may, I may not. You are yet unsworn. When you have vow'd you must not speak with men but in the presence of the prioress. Then, if you speak, you must not show your face, or, if you show your face, you must not speak. He calls again. I pray you, answer him.

Isabella
Peace and prosperity! Who is't that calls?

Enter Lucio

Lucio
Hail, virgin, if you be – as those cheek-roses proclaim you are no less! Can you so steady me as bring me to the sight of Isabella, a novice of this place, and the fair sister to her unhappy brother Claudio?

Isabella
Why 'her unhappy brother'? Let me ask, for I am that Isabella and his sister.

Lucio
Gentle and fair, your brother kindly greets you. Not to be weary with you, he's in prison.

Isabella
Woe me! For what?

Lucio
For that which, if myself might be his judge, he should receive his punishment in thanks. He hath got his friend with child.

Isabella
Sir, make me not your story.

Lucio
It is true.

I would not – though 'tis my familiar sin with maids to seem the lapwing and to jest tongue far from heart – play with all virgins so.
I hold you as a thing ensky’d and sainted,
by your renouncement an immortal spirit and to be talk’d with in sincerity, as with a saint.

Isabella You do blaspheme the good in mocking me.

Lucio Do not believe it. Fewness and truth, ’tis thus:
your brother and his lover have embrac’d.
As those that feed grow full, as blossoming time that from the seedness the bare fallow brings to teeming foison, even so her plenteous womb expresseth his full tilth and husbandry.

Isabella Some one with child by him? My cousin Juliet?

Lucio Is she your cousin?

Isabella Adoptedly, as school-maids ‘change their names
by vain though apt affection.

Lucio She it is.

Isabella O, let him marry her.

Lucio This is the point.
The Duke is very strangely gone from hence.
Upon his place – and with full line of his authority – governs Lord Angelo. A man whose blood is very snow-broth. One who never feels the wanton stings and motions of the sense, but doth rebate and blunt his natural edge with profits of the mind, study and fast.
He – to give fear to use and liberty which have for long run by the hideous law as mice by lions – hath pick’d out an act under whose heavy sense your brother’s life falls into forfeit. He arrests him on it and follows close the rigour of the statute to make him an example. All hope is gone unless you have the grace by your fair prayer to soften Angelo.

Isabella Doth he so seek his life?

Lucio Has censur’d him already. And, as I hear, the Provost hath a warrant for his execution.

Isabella  Alas, what poor ability’s in me to do him good?

Lucio  Assay the power you have.

Isabella  My power, alas, I doubt.

Lucio  Our doubts are traitors and make us lose the good we oft might win by fearing to attempt. Go to Lord Angelo and let him learn to know when maidens sue men give like gods, but when they weep and kneel
all their petitions are as freely theirs
as they themselves would owe them.

Isabella  I’ll see what I can do.

Lucio  But speedily.

Isabella  I will about it straight,
no longer staying but to give the Mother
notice of my affair. I humbly thank you.
Commend me to my brother. Soon at night
I’ll send him certain word of my success.

Lucio  I take my leave of you.

Isabella  Good sir, adieu.

Exeunt

Scene 5  (Act2 Sc1)

Angelo’s Great Hall

Enter Angelo, Escalus and the Provost

Angelo  We must not make a scarecrow of the law, setting it up to fright the birds of prey and let it keep one shape till custom make it their perch and not their terror.

Escalus  Ay, but yet
let us be keen and rather cut a little than fall and bruise to death. Alas, this gentleman whom I would save had a most noble father.
Let but your honour know,
whom I believe to be most strait in virtue,
that in the working of your own affections – had time coher’d with place or place with wishing, or that the resolute acting of your blood could have attain’d th’effect of your own purpose – whether you had not sometime in your life err’d in this point which now you censure him and pull’d the law upon you.

Angelo  ‘Tis one thing to be tempted, Escalus, another thing to fall. I not deny the jury passing on the prisoner’s life may in the sworn twelve have a thief or two guiltier than him they try. ’Tis what’s open made to justice that justice seizes.
The jewel that we see, we stoop and take’t, but what we do not see
we tread upon and never think of it.
You may not so extenuate his offence for I have had such faults, but rather tell me when I that censure him do so offend let mine own judgment pattern out my death and nothing come in partial. Sir, he must die.

Escalus  Be it as your wisdom will.

Angelo  Where is the Provost?

Provost  Here, if it like your honour.

Angelo  See that Claudio be executed by nine tomorrow morning.
Bring him his confessor, let him be prepar’d,
for that’s the utmost of his pilgrimage.

Escalus  [Aside] Well, heaven forgive him and forgive us all!

Provost  Constable!

Enter Elbow and Officer with Froth and Pompey

Elbow  Come, bring them away. If these be good people in a commonweal that do nothing but use their abuses in common houses I know no law. Bring them away.

Angelo  How now, sir? What’s your name? And what’s the matter?

Elbow  If it please your honour, I am the poor Duke’s constable, and my name is Elbow. I do lean upon justice, sir, and do bring in here before your good honour two notorious benefactors.

Angelo  Benefactors? Well, what benefactors are they? Are they not malefactors?
Elbow: If it please your honour, I know not well what they are. But precise villains they are, that I am sure of, and void of all profanation in the world that good Christians ought to have.

Escalus: This comes off well. Here’s a wise officer.

Angelo: Go to. What quality are they of? Elbow is your name? Why dost thou not speak, Elbow?

Pompey: He cannot, sir, he’s out at elbow.

Angelo: What are you, sir?

Elbow: He, sir? A tapster, sir. Parcel-bawd. One that serves a bad woman whose house, sir, was, as they say, pluck’d down in the suburbs. And now she professes a hot-house, which I think is a very ill house too.

Escalus: How know you that?

Elbow: My wife, sir, whom I detest before heaven and your honour —

Escalus: How, thy wife?

Elbow: Ay, sir, whom, I thank heaven, is an honest woman —

Escalus: Dost thou detest her therefore?

Elbow: I say, sir, I will detest myself also as well as she that this house, if it be not a bawd’s house it is pity of her life, for it is a naughty house.

Escalus: How dost thou know that, Constable?

Elbow: Marry, sir, by my wife who, if she had been a woman cardinally given, might have been accus’d in fornication, adultery, and all uncleanness there.

Escalus: By the woman’s means?

Elbow: Ay, sir, by Mistress Overdone’s means. But as she spit in his face, so she defied him.

Pompey: Sir, if it please your honour, this is not so.

Elbow: Prove it before these varlets here, thou honourable man, prove it.

Escalus: Do you hear how he misplaces?

Pompey: Sir, she came in great with child and longing, saving your honour’s reverence, for stew’d prunes. Sir, we had but two in the house which at that very distant time stood, as it were, in a fruit-dish. A dish of some three-pence. Your honours have seen such dishes – they are not China dishes, but very good dishes –

Escalus
Go to, go to, no matter for the dish, sir.

Pompey
No, indeed, sir, not of a pin. You are therein in the right. But to the point: as I say, this Mistress Elbow being, as I say, with child and being great-bellied and longing, as I said, for prunes and having but two in the dish, as I said – Master Froth here, this very man having eaten the rest, as I said and as I say, paying for them very honestly, for as you know, Master Froth, I could not give you three-pence again –

Froth
No, indeed.

Pompey
Very well. You being then, if you be remember’d, cracking the stones of the foresaid prunes –

Froth
Ay, so I did indeed.

Pompey
Why, very well. I telling you then, if you be remember’d, that such a one and such a one were past cure of the thing you wot of unless they kept very good diet, as I told you –

Froth
All this is true.

Pompey
Why, very well, then –

Escalus
Come, you are a tedious fool, to the purpose. What was done to Elbow’s wife that he hath cause to complain of? Come me to what was done to her.

Pompey
Sir, your honour cannot come to that yet.

Escalus
No, sir, nor I mean it not.

Pompey
Sir, but you shall come to it, by your honour’s leave. And I beseech you, look into Master Froth here, sir. A man of four-score pound a year whose father died at Hallowmas – was’t not at Hallowmas, Master Froth?

Froth
All-hallond eve.

Pompey
Why, very well. I hope here be truths. He, sir, sitting, as I say, in a lower chair, sir – ’twas in the Bunch of Grapes where indeed you have a delight to sit, have you not –?

Froth
I have so because it is an open room and good for winter.

Pompey
Why, very well, then. I hope here be truths.

Angelo
This will last out a night in Russia when nights are longest there. I’ll take my leave and leave you to the hearing of the cause, hoping you’ll find good cause to whip them all.

Escalus
I think no less. Good morrow to your lordship.

Exit Angelo

Now, sir, come on – what was done to Elbow’s wife, once more?

Pompey
Once, sir? There was nothing done to her once.

Elbow
I beseech you, sir, ask him what this man did to my wife.

Pompey
I beseech your honour, ask me.

Escalus
Well, sir, what did this gentleman to her?

Pompey
I beseech you, sir, look in this gentleman’s face. Good Master Froth, look upon his honour, ‘tis for a good purpose. Doth your honour mark his face?

Escalus
Ay, sir, very well.

Pompey
Nay, I beseech you, mark it well.

Escalus
Well, I do so.

Pompey
Doth your honour see any harm in his face?

Escalus
Why, no.

Pompey
I’ll be suppos’d upon a book, his face is the worst thing about him. Good then, if his face be the worst thing about him how could Master Froth do the Constable’s wife any harm? I would know that of your honour.

Escalus
He’s in the right. Constable, what say you to it?

Elbow
First, an it like you, the house is a respected house. Next, this is a respected fellow and his mistress is a respected woman.

Pompey
By this hand, sir, his wife is a more respected person than any of us all.

Elbow
Varlet, thou liest. Thou liest, wicked varlet! The time has yet to come that she was ever respected with man, woman, or child.

Pompey
Sir, she was respected with him before he married with her.

Escalus
Which is the wiser here? Justice or Iniquity? Is this true?

Elbow
O thou caitiff! O thou varlet! O thou wicked Hannibal! I respected with her before I was married to her! If ever I was respected with her, or she with me, let not your Worship think me the poor Duke’s officer. Prove this, thou wicked Hannibal, or I’ll have mine action of battery on thee.

Escalus
If he took you a box o’ the ear, you might have your action of slander too.

Elbow
Marry, I thank your good worship for it. What is’t your worship’s pleasure I shall do with this wicked caitiff?

Escalus
Truly, officer, because he hath some offences in him that thou would’st discover if thou could’st, let him continue in his courses till thou knowest what they are.

Elbow
Marry, I thank your worship for it. Thou seest, thou wicked varlet, now what’s come upon thee? Thou art to continue now, thou varlet, thou art to continue.

Escalus
Where were you born, friend?

Froth
Here in Vienna, sir.

Escalus
Are you of fourscore pounds a year?

Froth
Yes, an’t please you, sir.

Escalus
So. What trade are you of, sir?

Pompey
Tapster. A poor widow’s tapster.

Escalus
Your mistress’ name?

Pompey
Mistress Overdone.

Escalus
Hath she had any more than one husband?

Pompey
Nine, sir. Overdone by the last.

Escalus
Nine! Come hither to me, Master Froth. Master Froth, I would not have you acquainted with tapsters. They will draw you, Master Froth, and you will hang them. Get you gone and let me hear no more of you.

Froth
I thank your worship. For mine own part I never come into any room in a tap-house but I am drawn in.

Escalus
Well, no more of it, Master Froth. Farewell.

Exit Froth

Come you hither to me, Master tapster. What’s your name, Master tapster?

Pompey
Pompey.

Escalus
What else?
Pompey  Bum, sir.

Escalus  Troth and your bum is the greatest thing about you, so that in the beastliest sense you are Pompey the Great. Pompey, you are partly a bawd, Pompey, howsoever you colour it in being a tapster, are you not? Come, tell me true – it shall be the better for you.

Pompey  Truly, sir, I am a poor fellow that would live.

Escalus  How would you live, Pompey? By being a bawd? What do you think of the trade, Pompey? Is it a lawful trade?

Pompey  If the law would allow it, sir.

Escalus  But the law will not allow it, Pompey, nor it shall not be allow’d in Vienna.

Pompey  Does your worship mean to geld and spay all the youth of the city?

Escalus  No, Pompey.

Pompey  Truly, sir, in my poor opinion they will to’t then. If your worship will take order for the drabs and the knaves you need not to fear the bawds.

Escalus  There are pretty orders beginning I can tell you. It is but heading and hanging.

Pompey  If you head and hang all that offend that way but for ten year together you’ll be glad to give out a commission for more heads. If this law hold in Vienna ten year, I’ll rent the fairest house in it after three-pence a bay. If you live to see this come to pass, say Pompey told you so.

Escalus  Thank you, good Pompey. And in requital of your prophecy, hark you. I advise you, let me not find you before me again upon any complaint whatsoever – no, not for dwelling where you do. If I do, Pompey, I shall beat you to your tent and prove a shrewd Caesar to you. In plain dealing, Pompey, I shall have you whipp’d. So for this time, Pompey, fare you well.

Pompey  I thank your worship for your good counsel. [Aside] But I shall follow it as the flesh and fortune shall better determine.

Exit

Escalus  Come hither to me, Master Elbow. Come hither, Master Constable. How long have you been in this place of constable?

Escalus

I thought, by your readiness in the office, you had continued in it some time. You say seven years together?

Elbow

Seven year and a half, sir.

Escalus

Alas, it hath been great pains to you. They do you wrong to put you so oft upon’t. Are there not men in your ward sufficient to serve it?

Elbow

Faith, sir, few of any wit in such matters. As they are chosen, they are glad to choose me for them. I do it for some piece of money and go through with all.

Escalus

Look you bring me in the names of some six or seven, the most sufficient of your parish.

Elbow

To your worship’s house, sir?

Escalus

To my house. Fare you well.

Exit Elbow

What’s o’clock, think you?

Provost

Eleven, sir.

Escalus

I pray you home to dinner with me.

Provost

I humbly thank you.

Escalus

It grieves me for the death of Claudio. But there’s no remedy.

Provost

Lord Angelo is severe.

Escalus

It is but needful. Mercy is not itself, that oft looks so. Pardon is still the nurse of second woe. But yet – poor Claudio! There is no remedy. Come, sir.

Exeunt

Scene 6

A Moated Grange

Mariana and a Musician, singing

Mariana

Take, O take those lips away

That so sweetly were forsworn,

And those eyes, the break of day,

Lights that do mislead the morn.
But my kisses bring again, bring again,
Seals of love, but seal’d in vain, seal’d in vain.

Enter the Duke disguised as a Friar

Break off our song, and haste thee quick away.
Here’s a man of comfort whose advice
so oft hath still’d my brawling discontent.

Exit Musician

Welcome, Father. – Oh, sir, I cry you mercy!
I would have welcom’d my confessor here.

Duke
Friar Thomas?

Mariana
Aye, my soul’s good angel, one whose grave and solemn counsel lends me ease.

Duke
A most sweet comfort. I am Friar Lodowick and reverently my brother’s place supply to hear confessions and to shrive such sins
as come ‘tween us and God’s all-loving gaze.
Will you kneel?

Mariana
If it please you, Father.

Duke
There. Unburden. Let all your secret thoughts ride upon words and speed to absolution.

Mariana
Hear me, good Father: I was betroth’d, now yearn for one who scorns me, sets aside all vows of love that once he gave to me so freely –
all this Friar Thomas knows.

Duke
Then, daughter,
so must I. Come, the circumstance.

Mariana
Our marriage day was set, my happiness,
I thought, complete. But Fortune would not so.
My brother, full of tender love, took ship from France to joy my nuptials. The winds that spread the sails first promis’d speedy passage but soon turn’d traitor and in a cruel tempest lost I brother, dower, and my soul’s dear joy.
He should then have solac’d me show’d me naught
but coldness, all his loving vows forgot.

Duke
Speak you of the Lord Angelo, my child?

Mariana
Aye, Angelo, who deputies the Duke and now makes pious love unto the law.
Duke Was all his coldness for a dowry lost?
Mariana I think 'twas so. And yet …
Duke Speak, my child, you must if you would be shriv’d.
Mariana Father, this man, this Angelo I lov’d with doting that did o’errule my modesty. Unmaidenlike I chaff’d, I could not brook the sober patience he look’d for in a wife. In sunding us he advertis’d my heat as common looseness, though meant all for him. And now, the ghost of all those promis’d pleasures, I haunt the places where he walks, wet with tears the paths and streets our feet together trod.

Duke Why do you so? 'Tis nought but seeking shame.
Mariana T’ accuse him and to ease my present woes.
Duke Such heat’s unseemly, feeds your doting still, makes of it a tenant that in your bosom grows sick on fancy, flatter’d with false hopes. Find you an empty chamber nigh your heart, banish it thither. Let the doors be seal’d. Comfort it not, nor feed it with your thoughts, but let it starve unheeded and alone that its death may release your ‘prison’d soul.
Mariana I will strive to obey. Though still I grieve.
Duke Now rest in that resolve. Come, bow your head.

Scene 7 (Act2 Sc2)

A Chamber in Angelo’s house
Enter Provost and the Servant

Servant He’s hearing of a cause. He will come straight. I’ll tell him of you.

Provost Pray you, do. Exit Servant

I’ll know his pleasure. May be he will relent. Alas, he hath but as offended in a dream! All sects, all ages smack of this vice – and he to die for’t?

Enter Angelo
Angelo: Now, what's the matter, Provost?

Provost: Is it your will Claudio shall die tomorrow?

Angelo: Did not I tell thee yea? Hadst thou not order? Why dost thou ask again?

Provost: Lest I might be too rash. Under your good correction, I have seen when, after execution, judgment hath repented o'er his doom.

Angelo: Go to, let that be mine. Do you your office or give up your place, and you shall well be spar'd.

Provost: I crave your honour's pardon. What shall be done, sir, with the groaning Juliet? She's very near her hour.

Angelo: Dispose of her to some more fitter place, and that with speed.

Provost: Exit Servant

Servant: Here is the sister of the man condemn'd desires access to you.

Angelo: Hath he a sister?

Provost: Ay, my good lord. A very virtuous maid, and to be shortly of a sisterhood, if not already.

Angelo: Well, let her be admitted. Exit Servant

Servant: See you the fornicatress be remov'd. Let her have needful, but not lavish means. There shall be order for't.

Provost: God save your honour!

Angelo: Stay a little while. You're welcome. What's your will?

Isabella: I am a woeful suitor to your honour. Please but your honour hear me.

Angelo: Well, what's your suit?

Isabella: There is a vice that most I do abhor and most desire should meet the blow of justice. For which I would not plead, but that I must.
For which I must not plead, but that I am at war ’twixt will and will not.

Angelo Well, the matter?
Isabella I have a brother is condemn’d to die. I do beseech you, let it be his fault and not my brother.
Angelo Condemn the fault and not the actor of it? Why, every fault’s condemn’d ere it be done. Mine were the very cipher of a function to fine the faults – whose fine stands in record – and let go by the actor.
Isabella O just but severe law! I had a brother, then. Heaven keep your honour.
Lucio [To Isabella] Give’t not o’er so. To him again, entreat him. Kneel down before him, hang upon his gown. You are too cold. If you should need a pin you could not with more tame a tongue desire it. To him, I say!
Isabella Must he needs die?
Angelo Maiden, no remedy.
Isabella Yes. I do think that you might pardon him and neither heaven nor man grieve at the mercy.
Angelo I will not do’t.
Isabella But can you, if you would?
Angelo Look, what I will not, that I cannot do.
Isabella But might you do’t and do the world no wrong if so your heart were touch’d with that remorse as mine is to him?
Angelo He’s sentenced, ’tis too late.
Lucio [To Isabella] You are too cold.
Isabella Too late? Why, no. I, that do speak a word may call it back again. Well believe this, no ceremony that to great ones ‘longs, not the king’s crown, nor the deputed sword, the marshal’s truncheon, nor the judge’s robe, become them with one half so good a grace as mercy does.
If he had been as you and you as he you would have slipp’d like him. But he, like you, would not have been so stern.

Angelo

Pray you, be gone.

Isabella

I would to heaven I had your potency and you were Isabel! Should it then be thus?
No, I would tell what ’twere to be a judge,
and what a prisoner.

Lucio

[To Isabella] Ay, touch him, there’s the vein.

Angelo

Your brother is a forfeit of the law and you but waste your words.

Isabella

Alas, alas,
why, all the souls that were were forfeit once and He that might the vantage best have took found out the remedy. How would you be if He, which is the top of judgment, should but judge you as you are? O, think on that and mercy then will breathe within your lips like man new made.

Angelo

Be you content, fair maid.
It is the law, not I, condemn your brother.
Were he my kinsman, brother, or my son,
it should be thus with him. He must die tomorrow.

Isabella

To-morrow? O, that’s sudden! Spare him, spare him!
He’s not prepar’d for death. Even for our kitchens we kill the fowl of season. Shall we serve heaven with less respect than we do minister to our gross selves? Good, good my lord, bethink you.
Who is it that hath died for this offence?
There’s many have committed it.

Lucio

Angelo

The law hath not been dead, though it hath slept.
Those many had not dar’d to do that evil
if the first that did the edict infringe had answer’d for his deed. Now ’tis awake, takes note of what is done, and like a prophet looks in a glass that shows what future evils, either new – or by remissness new-conceiv’d and so in progress to be hatch’d and born – are now to have no successive degrees
but, ere they live, to end.

Isabella Yet show some pity.

Angelo I show it most of all when I show justice.
For then I pity those I do not know which a dismiss’d offence would after gall.
And do him right that, answering one foul wrong, lives not to act another. Be satisfied your brother dies tomorrow. Be content.

Isabella So you must be the first that gives this sentence, and he that suffers. O, it is excellent to have a giant’s strength but it is tyrannous to use it like a giant.

Lucio [Aside] That’s well said.

Isabella Could great men thunder
as Jove himself does, Jove would ne’er be quiet, for every pelting, petty officer would use his heaven for thunder, nothing but thunder! Merciful Heaven, thy rather with thy sharp and sulphurous bolt split’st the unwedgeable and gnarled oak than the soft myrtle. But man, proud man, dress’d in a little brief authority,
most ignorant of what he’s most assur’d –
his glassy essence – like an angry ape plays such fantastic tricks before high heaven
as make the angels weep, who with our spleens would all themselves laugh mortal.
We cannot weigh our brother with ourself.
Great men may jest with saints, ’tis wit in them,
but in the less foul profanation.
That in the captain’s but a choleric word which in the soldier is flat blasphemy.

Lucio [To Isabella.] Art advis’d o’ that? More on ‘t.

Angelo Why do you put these sayings upon me?

Isabella Because authority, though it err like others hath yet a kind of med’cine in itself that skins the vice o’ the top. Go to your bosom, knock there and ask your heart what it doth know that’s like my brother’s fault. If it confess a natural guiltiness such as is his let it not sound a thought upon your tongue against my brother’s life.

Angelo [Aside] She speaks, and ‘tis such sense, that my sense breeds with it. Fare you well.

Isabella Gentle my lord, turn back.

Angelo I will bethink me. Come again tomorrow.

Isabella Hark how I’ll bribe you Good my lord, turn back.

Angelo How? Bribe me?

Isabella Ay, with such gifts that heaven shall share with you.

Lucio [Aside] You had marr’d all else.

Isabella Not with fond sickles of the tested gold or stones whose rates are either rich or poor as fancy values them, but with true prayers that shall be up at heaven and enter there ere sunrise, prayers from preserved souls, from fasting maids whose minds are dedicate to nothing temporal.

Angelo Well, come to me tomorrow.

Lucio [Aside to Isabella.] Go to, ‘tis well. Away!

Isabella Heaven keep your honour safe.

Angelo [Aside] Amen, for I am that way going to temptation, where prayers cross.

Isabella At what hour tomorrow shall I attend your lordship?

Angelo At any time ‘fore noon.

Isabella ‘Save your honour.

Exeunt Isabella, Lucio and the Provost

Angelo From thee, even from thy virtue! What’s this, what’s this? Is this her fault or mine? The tempter or the tempted, who sins most, ha? Not she. Nor doth she tempt. But it is I that, lying by the violet in the sun, do as the carrion does, not as the flower, corrupt with virtuous season. Can it be that modesty may more betray our sense than woman’s lightness? Having waste ground enough shall we desire to raze the sanctuary and pitch our evils there? O, fie, fie, fie, what dost thou, or what art thou, Angelo?
Dost thou desire her fouly for those things that make her good? O, let her brother live!
Thieves for their robbery have authority when judges steal themselves. What, do I love her, that I desire to hear her speak again and feast upon her eyes? What is’t I dream on?
O cunning enemy, that to catch a saint,
with saints dost bait thy hook! Most dangerous is that temptation that doth goad us on to sin in loving virtue. Never could the strumpet, with all her double vigour – art and nature –
once stir my temper, but this virtuous maid subdues me quite. Ever till now, when men were fond, I smil’d and wonder’d how.

Exit

Scene 8 (Act2 Sc3)
A Room in the Prison

Enter the Duke, as Friar, and the Provost

Duke Hail to you, Provost – so I think you are.

Provost I am the provost. What’s your will, good friar?

Duke Bound by my charity and my blest order,
I come to visit the afflicted spirits here in the prison. Do me the common right to let me see them and to make me know the nature of their crimes, that I may minister to them accordingly.

Provost I would do more than that, if more were needful.

Enter Juliet

Look, here comes one. A gentlewoman of mine who, falling in the flaws of her own youth, hath blister’d her report. She is with child and he that got it, sentenc’d. A young man more fit to do another such offence than die for this.

Duke When must he die?

Provost As I do think, tomorrow.
[To Juliet] I have provided for you. Stay awhile, and you shall be conducted.

Duke Repent you, fair one, of the sin you carry?

Juliet I do. And bear the shame most patiently.

Duke I’ll teach you how you shall arraign your conscience and try your penitence, if it be sound or hollowly put on.

Juliet I’ll gladly learn.

Duke Love you the man that wrong’d you?

Juliet Yes, as I love the woman that wrong’d him.

Duke So then it seems your most offenceful act was mutually committed?

Juliet Mutually.

Duke Then was your sin of heavier kind than his.

Juliet I do confess it, and repent it, father.

Duke ’Tis meet so, daughter. But lest you do repent as that the sin hath brought you to this shame – which sorrow is always towards ourselves, not Heaven, showing we would not spare Heaven as we love it but as we stand in fear –

Juliet I do repent me as it is an evil and take the shame with joy.

Duke There rest.

Your partner, as I hear, must die tomorrow and I am going with instruction to him. Grace go with you. Benedicite.

Exit Provost

Juliet Must die tomorrow? O injurious love, that respites me a life whose very comfort is still a dying horror!

Provost ’Tis pity of him.

Scene 9 (Act2 Sc4)

A Chamber in Angelo’s House

Enter Angelo

Angelo When I would pray and think, I think and pray to several subjects. Heaven hath my empty words whilst my invention, hearing not my tongue, anchors on Isabel. God in my mouth, as if I did but only chew His name, and in my heart the strong and swelling evil of my conception. The state whereon I studied is like a good thing being often read grown sere and tedious. Yea, my gravity, wherein – let no man hear me – I take pride, could I with boot change for an idle plume which the air beats for vain. O place, O form, how often dost thou with thy case, thy habit, wrench awe from fools and tie the wiser souls to thy false seeming! Blood, thou art blood. Let’s write good angel on the devil’s horn – ’tis not the devil’s crest.

Enter a Servant

How now, who’s there?

Servant. One Isabel, a sister, desires access to you.

Angelo Teach her the way.

Exit Servant

O heavens, why does my blood thus muster to my heart, making both it unable for itself and dispossessing all my other parts of necessary fitness?

Enter Isabella

How now, fair maid?

Isabella I am come to know your pleasure.

Angelo [Aside] That you might know it, would much better please me than to demand what ’tis. – Your brother cannot live.

Isabella Even so. Heaven keep your honour.

Angelo Yet may he live awhile. And, it may be, as long as you or I. Yet he must die.

Isabella Under your sentence?

Angelo Yea.

Isabella When, I beseech you? That in his reprieve, longer or shorter, he may be so fitted that his soul sicken not.
Angelo

Ha? Fie, these filthy vices! It were as good to pardon him that hath from nature stolen a man already made as to forgive their saucy sweetness that do coin God’s image in stamps that are forbid. ’Tis all as easy falsely to take away a life true made as to put metal in restrained means to make a false one.

Isabella

’Tis set down so in heaven, but not in earth.

Angelo

Say you so? Then I shall pose you quickly: which had you rather – that the most just law now took your brother’s life or, to redeem him, give up your body to such sweet uncleanness as she that he hath stain’d?

Isabella

Sir, believe this, I had rather give my body than my soul.

Angelo

I talk not of your soul. Our compell’d sins stand more for number than for accompt.

Isabella

How say you?

Angelo

Nay, I’ll not warrant that, for I can speak against the thing I say. Answer to this: I, now the voice of the recorded law, pronounce a sentence on your brother’s life. Might there not be a charity in sin to save this brother’s life?

Isabella

Please you to do’t I’ll take it as a peril to my soul, it is no sin at all, but charity.

Angelo

Pleased you to do’t at peril of your soul were equal poise of sin and charity.

Isabella

That I do beg his life, if it be sin Heaven let me bear it. You granting of my suit, if that be sin I’ll make it my morn prayer to have it added to the faults of mine and nothing of your answer.

Angelo

Nay, but hear me, your sense pursues not mine. Either you are ignorant, or seem so craftily, and that’s not good.

Isabella

Let me be ignorant, and in nothing good,
but graciously to know I am no better.

Angelo
Thus wisdom wishes to appear most bright when it doth tax itself. As a black mask may proclaim an ensheiled beauty ten times louder than beauty could, display’d. But mark me: to be received plain, I’ll speak more gross. Your brother is to die.

Isabella
So.

Angelo
And his offence is so, as it appears, accountant to the law upon that pain.

Isabella
True.

Angelo
Admit no other way to save his life – as I subscribe not that, nor any other, but in the loss of question – that you, his sister, finding yourself desir’d of such a person whose credit with the judge, or own great place, could fetch your brother from the manacles of the all-binding law, and that there were no earthly mean to save him but that either you must lay down the treasures of your body to this suppos’d, or else to let him suffer, what would you do?

Isabella
As much for my poor brother as myself. That is, were I under the terms of death th’impression of keen whips I’d wear as rubies and strip myself to death, as to a bed that longing have been sick for, ere I’d yield my body up to shame.

Angelo
Then must your brother die.

Isabella
And ’twere the cheaper way. Better it were a brother died at once, than that a sister, by redeeming him, should die for ever.

Angelo
Were not you then as cruel as the sentence that you have slander’d so?

Isabella
Ignomy in ransom and free pardon are of two houses. Lawful mercy is nothing kin to foul redemption.

Angelo
You seem’d of late to make the law a tyrant,
and rather prov’d the sliding of your brother
a merriment than a vice.

Isabella O, pardon me, my lord, it oft falls out
o have what we would have we speak not what we mean.
I something do excuse the thing I hate for his advantage that I dearly love.

Angelo We are all frail.

Isabella Else let my brother die,
if not a feodary but only he owe and succeed thy weakness.

Angelo Nay, women are frail too.

Isabella Ay, as the glasses where they view themselves,
which are as easy broke as they make forms.
Women – help Heaven! Men their creation mar in profiting by them. Nay, call us ten times frail, for we are soft as our complexions are and credulous to false prints.

Angelo I think it well.
And from this testimony of your own sex –
since I suppose we are made to be no stronger than faults may shake our frames – let me be bold:
I do arrest your words. Be that you are,
that is, a woman. If you be more you’re none.
If you be one, as you are well express’d by all external warrants, show it now by putting on the destin’d livery.

Isabella I have no tongue but one. Gentle my lord, let me entreat you speak the former language.

Angelo Plainly conceive, I love you.

Isabella My brother did love Juliet and you tell me that he shall die for it.

Angelo He shall not, Isabel, if you give me love.

Isabella I know your virtue hath a licence in’t, which seems a little fouler than it is to pluck on others.

Angelo Believe me, on mine honour,
my words express my purpose.

Isabella Ha, little honour to be much believ’d and most pernicious purpose! Seeming, seeming!
I will proclaim thee, Angelo. Look for’t.
sign me a present pardon for my brother or with an outstretch’d throat I’ll tell the world aloud
what man thou art.

Angelo

Who will believe thee, Isabel?
My unsoil’d name, the austereness of my life,
my vouch against you and my place i’ the state will so your accusation overweigh that you shall stifle in your own report and smell of calumny. I have begun, and now I give my sensual race the rein:
fit thy consent to my sharp appetite,
lay by all nicety and prolixious blushes
that banish what they sue for. Redeem thy brother by yielding up thy body to my will or else he must not only die the death but thy unkindness shall his death draw out to ling’ring suff’rance. Answer me tomorrow or, by the affection that now guides me most, I’ll prove a tyrant to him. As for you, say what you can, my false o’erweighs your true.

Isabella

To whom should I complain? Did I tell this, who would believe me? O perilous mouths,
that bear in them one and the self-same tongue,
either of condemnation or approof, bidding the law make curtsey to their will,
hooking both right and wrong to the appetite to follow as it draws! I’ll to my brother.
Though he hath fallen by prompture of the blood,
yet hath he in him such a mind of honour that, had he twenty heads to tender down on twenty bloody blocks, he’d yield them up before his sister should her body stoop to such abhor’d pollution.
Then, Isabel, live chaste and, brother, die,
more than our brother is our chastity.
I’ll tell him yet of Angelo’s request,
and fit his mind to death, for his soul’s rest.

Exit
Scene 10 (Act 3 Sc 1)

A Cell in the Prison

The Duke, disguised as before, and Claudio

Duke

So then you hope of pardon from Lord Angelo?

Claudio

The mis’rable have no other med’cine
but only hope.
I have hope to live and am prepar’d to die.

Duke

Be absolute for death. Either death or life shall thereby be the sweeter. Reason thus with life:
if I do lose thee, I do lose a thing that none but fools would keep. A breath thou art, servile to all the skyey influences that dost this habitation where thou keep’st hourly afflict. Merely, thou art death’s fool, for him thou labour’st by thy flight to shun and yet runn’st toward him still. Thou art not noble, for all the accommodations that thou bear’st are nurs’d by baseness. Thou’rt by no means valiant for thou dost fear the soft and tender fork of a poor worm. Thy best of rest is sleep and that thou oft provok’st, yet grossly fear’st thy death which is no more. Thou art not thyself for thou exist’st on many a thousand grains that issue out of dust. Happy thou art not for what thou hast not still thou striv’st to get and what thou hast, forget’st. Thou art not certain for thy complexion shifts to strange effects after the moon. If thou art rich thou’rt poor, for like an ass whose back with ingots bows
thou bear’st thy heavy riches but a journey and death unloads thee. Friend hast thou none, for thine own bowels which do call thee sire,
the mere effusion of thy proper loins,
do curse the gout, serpigo and the rheum for ending thee no sooner. Thou hast nor youth nor age but, as it were, an after-dinner’s sleep dreaming on both. For all thy blessed youth becomes as aged and doth beg the alms of palsied eld. And when thou art old and rich thou hast neither heat, affection, limb, nor beauty to make thy riches pleasant. What’s yet in this that bears the name of life? Yet in this life lie hid more thousand deaths. Yet death we fear, that makes these odds all even.

Claudio I humbly thank you.
To sue to live, I find I seek to die, and, seeking death, find life. Let it come on.

Enter the Provost with Isabella

Provost Look, signior, here’s your sister.
Duke Dear sir, ere long I’ll visit you again.
Claudio Most holy sir, I thank you.
The Duke and Provost retire

Claudio Now, sister, what’s the comfort?
The Duke stops to listen in the shadows

Isabella Why,
as all comforts are – most good, most good indeed.
Lord Angelo, having affairs to heaven, intends you for his swift ambassador where you shall be an everlasting leiger.
Therefore your best appointment make with speed.
Tomorrow you set on.

Claudio Is there no remedy?
Isabella None, but such remedy as, to save a head,
would cleave a heart in twain.

Claudio But is there any?
Isabella Yes, brother, you may live.
There is a devilish mercy in the judge,
if you’ll implore it, that will free your life but fetter you till death.

Claudio Perpetual durance?
Isabella Ay, just – perpetual durance, a restraint though all the world’s vastidity you had to a determin’d scope.

Claudio But in what nature?
Isabella  In such a one as, you consenting to’t, would bark your honour from that trunk you bear and leave you naked.

Claudio  Let me know the point!

Isabella  O, I do fear thee, Claudio, and I quake lest thou a feverous life shouldst entertain and six or seven winters more respect than a perpetual honour. Dar’st thou die?
The sense of death is most in apprehension and the poor beetle that we tread upon in corporal sufferance finds a pang as great as when a giant dies.

Claudio  Why give you me this shame?
Think you I can a resolution fetch from flowery tenderness? If I must die, I will encounter darkness as a bride and hug it in mine arms.

Isabella  There spake my brother. There my father’s grave did utter forth a voice. Yes, thou must die.
Thou art too noble to conserve a life in base appliances. This outward-sainted deputy, whose settl’d visage and deliberate word
nips youth i’ the head and follies doth emmew
as falcon doth the fowl, is yet a devil.
His filth within being cast, he would appear a pond as deep as hell.

Claudio  The princely Angelo?

Isabella  O, ’tis the cunning livery of hell,
the damned’st body to invest and cover
in princely guards! Dost thou think, Claudio, if I would yield him my virginity thou mightst be freed?

Claudio  O heavens, it cannot be!

Isabella  Yes, he would give’t thee, from this rank offence
so to offend him still. This night’s the time that I should do what I abhor to name or else thou diest tomorrow.

Claudio  Thou shalt not do’t.

Isabella  O, were it but my life
I’d throw it down for your deliverance as frankly as a pin.

Claudio
Thanks, dear Isabel.

Isabella
Be ready, Claudio, for your death tomorrow.

Claudio
Yes. Has he affections in him that thus can make him bite the law by the nose
when he would force it? Sure it is no sin, or of the deadly seven it is the least.

Isabella
Which is the least?

Claudio
If it were damnable, he being so wise
why would he for the momentary trick be perdurably fin’d? O Isabel!

Isabella
What says my brother?

Claudio
Death is a fearful thing.

Isabella
And shamed life a hateful.

Claudio
Ay, but to die and go we know not where,
to lie in cold obstruction and to rot,
this sensible warm motion to become a kneaded clod, and the delighted spirit to bathe in fiery floods, or to reside in thrilling region of thick-ribbed ice?
To be imprison’d in the viewless winds and blown with restless violence round about the pendent world, or to be worse than worst of those that lawless and incertain thought imagine howling – ’tis too horrible!
The weariest and most loathed worldly life that age, ache, penury and imprisonment can lay on nature is a paradise to what we fear of death.

Isabella
Alas, alas!

Claudio
Sweet sister, let me live!

What sin you do to save a brother’s life Nature dispenses with the deed so far that it becomes a virtue.

Isabella
O you beast!
O faithless coward! O dishonest wretch!
Wilt thou be made a man out of my vice?
Is't not a kind of incest to take life from thine own sister's shame? What should I think?
God forbid my mother play'd my father fair,
for such a warped slip of wilderness ne'er issued from his blood. Take my defiance, die, perish! Might but my bending down reprieve thee from thy fate it should proceed.
I'll pray a thousand prayers for thy death,
no word to save thee.

Claudio

Nay, hear me, Isabel.

Isabella

O, fie, fie, fie,
thy sin's not accidental, but a trade!
Mercy to thee would prove itself a bawd.

[Going] 'Tis best thou diest quickly.

Claudio

O hear me, Isabella!

Duke

Vouchsafe a word, young sister, but one word.

Isabella

What is your will?

Duke

Might you dispense with your leisure I would by and by have some speech with you. The satisfaction I would require is likewise your own benefit.

Isabella

I have no superfluous leisure. My stay must be stolen out of other affairs. But I will attend you at the gate.

Exit

Duke

[Aside] Princely Angelo, is your warrant nought but to weed my vice and let yours grow? [To Claudio] Son, I have overheard what hath pass'd between you and your sister.
Angelo had never the purpose to corrupt her. Only he hath made an assay of her virtue to practise his judgment with the disposition of natures. She, having the truth of honour in her, hath made him that gracious denial which he is most glad to receive. I am confessor to Angelo and I know this to be true. Therefore prepare yourself to death. Do not satisfy your resolution with hopes that are fallible.
Tomorrow you must die. Go to your knees and make ready.

Claudio

Let me ask my sister pardon. I am so out of love with life that I will sue to be rid of it.

Duke

Hold you there. Farewell.

Exit Duke Part Two

Scene 11 (Act3 Sc1/Act 3 Sc2)

Outside the Prison

Enter Isabella, then the Duke

Duke

The hand that hath made you fair hath made you good.
And grace, being the soul of your complexion, shall keep the body of it ever fair. The assault that Angelo hath made to you fortune hath convey’d to my understanding. And, but that frailty hath examples for his falling, I should wonder at Angelo. How will you do to content this substitute and to save your brother?

Isabella

I am now going to resolve him. I had rather my brother die by the law than my son should be unlawfully born. But O, how much is the good Duke deceit’ed in Angelo! If ever he return and I can speak to him I will open my lips in vain or discover his government.

Duke

That shall not be much amiss. Yet, as the matter now stands, he will avoid your accusation - say he made trial of you only. Therefore fasten your ear on my advisings. To the love I have in doing good a remedy presents itself. I do make myself believe that you may most uprightly do a poor wrong’d lady a merited benefit, redeem your brother from the angry law, do no stain to your own gracious person and much please the absent Duke if, peradventure,
he shall ever return to have hearing of this business.

Isabella

I have spirit to do anything that appears not foul in the truth of my spirit.

Duke

Virtue is bold and goodness never fearful. Have you not heard speak of Mariana, the sister of Frederick the great soldier who miscarried at sea?

Isabella

I have heard of the lady.

Duke

She should this Angelo have married, was affianc’d to her by oath and the nuptial appointed. Between which time of the contract and limit of the solemnity her brother Frederick was wreck’d at sea, having in that perish’d vessel the dowry of his sister. But mark how heavily this befell to the poor gentlewoman. There she lost a noble and renowned brother, with him the portion and sinew of her fortune, her marriage-dowry. With both, her combinate husband, this well-seeming Angelo.

Isabella Can this be so? Did Angelo so leave her?

Duke Left her in her tears and dried not one of them with his comfort. Swallow’d his vows whole, pretending in her discoveries of dishonour. In few, bestow’d her on her own lamentation which she yet wears for his sake. And he, a marble to her tears, is wash’d with them but relents not.

Isabella What corruption in this life, that it will let this man live! But how out of this can she avail?

Duke It is a rupture that you may easily heal. And the cure of it not only saves your brother but keeps you from dishonour in doing it.

Isabella Show me how, good father.

Duke Go you to Angelo. Agree with his demands to the point, only refer yourself to this advantage: that your stay with him may not be long, that for modesty’s sake your face be veil’d and that the time may have all shadow and silence in it. This being granted now follows all: we shall advise this wronged maid to go in your place. If the encounter acknowledge itself hereafter, it may compel him to her recompense. And here, by this, is your brother sav’d, your honour untainted, the poor Mariana advantag’d and the corrupt deputy scal’d. The maid will I frame and make fit for his attempt. If you think well to carry this, as you may, the doubleness of the benefit defends the deceit from reproof. What think you of it?

Isabella The image of it gives me content already and I trust it will grow to a most prosperous perfection.

Duke Then haste you speedily to Angelo. If for this night he entreat you to his bed give him promise of satisfaction. I will presently to Saint Luke’s. There, at the moated grange, resides this dejected Mariana. At that place call upon me.

Isabella I thank you for this comfort. Fare you well, good father.
Exit Isabella. Enter Elbow and Officer with Pompey

Elbow
Nay, if there be no remedy for it but that you will needs buy and sell men and women like beasts, we shall have all the world drink brown and white bastard.

Duke
O heavens, what stuff is here?

Pompey
‘Twas never merry world since, of two usuries, the merriest was put down, and the worser allow’d by order of law.

Elbow
Come your way, sir. ‘Bless you, good father friar.

Duke
And you, good brother father. What offence hath this man made you, sir?

Elbow
Marry, sir, he hath offended the law. And, sir, we take him to be a thief too, sir, for we have found upon him, sir, a strange picklock which we have sent to the deputy.

Duke
Fie, sirrah, a bawd, a wicked bawd!
The evil that thou causest to be done that is thy means to live. Do thou but think what ‘tis to cram a maw or clothe a back from such a filthy vice, say to thyself, ‘from their abominable and beastly touches
I drink, I eat, array myself and live’.
Canst thou believe thy living is a life,
so stinkingly depending? Go mend, go mend.

Pompey
Indeed, it does stink in some sort, sir. But yet, sir, I would prove there’s many a friar –

Duke
Nay, if the devil have given thee proofs for sin thou wilt prove his. Take him to prison, Officer.
Correction and instruction must both work ere this rude beast will profit.

Elbow
He must before the Deputy, sir. He has given him warning.
The deputy cannot abide a whoremaster. If he be a whoremonger and comes before him he were as good go a mile on his errand.

Duke
That we were all, as some would seem to be,
from our faults, as faults from seeming, free.

Elbow
His neck will come to your waist – a cord, sir.

Pompey
I spy comfort, I cry bail. Here’s a gentleman and a friend of mine.

Enter Lucio
Lucio  How now, noble Pompey – what, at the wheels of Caesar? Art thou led in triumph? What sayest thou, Trot? Is the world as it was, man? Which is the way? Is it sad and few words? Or how? The trick of it?

Duke  Still thus and thus, still worse!

Lucio  How doth my dear morsel, thy mistress? Procures she still, ha?

Pompey  Troth, sir, she hath eaten up all her beef and she is herself in the tub.

Lucio  Why, ’tis good. It is the right of it, it must be so. Ever your fresh whore and your powder’d bawd, an unshunn’d consequence, it must be so. Art going to prison, Pompey?

Pompey  Yes, faith, sir.

Lucio  Why, ’tis not amiss, Pompey. Farewell. Go, say I sent thee thither. For debt, Pompey? Or how?

Elbow  For being a bawd, for being a bawd.

Lucio  Well, then, imprison him. If imprisonment be the due of a bawd, why, ’tis his right. Bawd is he doubtless and of antiquity too. Bawd-born. Farewell, good Pompey. Commend me to the prison, Pompey. You will turn good husband now, Pompey, you will keep the house.

Pompey  I hope, sir, your good worship will be my bail.

Lucio  No, indeed, will I not, Pompey. It is not the wear. I will pray, Pompey, to increase your bondage. Adieu, trusty Pompey. ’Bless you, Friar.

Duke  And you.

Lucio  Does Bridget paint still, Pompey? Ha?

Elbow  Come your ways, sir, come.

Pompey  You will not bail me, then, sir?

Lucio  Then, Pompey, nor now. What news abroad, Friar? What news?

Elbow  Come your ways, sir, come.

Lucio  Go to kennel, Pompey, go!

Exeunt Elbow, Pompey and Officers

What news, Friar, of the Duke?
Duke  I know none. Can you tell me of any?
Lucio  Some say he is with the Emperor of Russia. Other some, he is in Rome. But where is he, think you?
Duke  I know not where. But wheresoever, I wish him well.
Lucio  It was a mad fantastical trick of him to steal from the state, and usurp the beggary he was never born to. Lord Angelo dukes it well in his absence. He puts transgression to 't.
Duke  He does well in 't.
Lucio  A little more lenity to lechery would do no harm in him.
      Something too crabb'd that way, friar.
Duke  It is too general a vice and severity must cure it.
Lucio  Yes, in good sooth, the vice is of a great kindred. But it is impossible to extirp it quite, friar, till eating and drinking be put down.
Duke  You are pleasant, sir, and speak apace.
Lucio  Why, what a ruthless thing is this in him, for the rebellion of a codpiece to take away the life of a man! Would the Duke that is absent have done this? Ere he would have hang'd a man for the getting a hundred bastards, he would have paid for the nursing a thousand. He had some feeling of the sport. He knew the service and that instructed him to mercy.
Duke  I never heard the absent Duke much detected for women.
      He was not inclin'd that way.
Lucio  O, sir, you are deceiv'd.
Duke  'Tis not possible.
Lucio  Yes, your beggar of fifty. The Duke had crotchets in him.
      He would be drunk too, that let me inform you.
Duke  You do him wrong, surely.
Lucio  Sir, I was an inward of his. A shy fellow was the Duke.
      And I believe I know the cause of his withdrawing.
Duke  What, I prithee, might be the cause?
Lucio  No, pardon. 'Tis a secret must be lock'd within the teeth and the lips. But this I can let you understand, the greater file of the subject held the Duke to be wise.
Duke  Wise? Why, no question but he was.
Lucio

A very superficial, ignorant, unweighing fellow.

Duke

Either this is envy in you, folly, or mistaking. The very stream of his life and the business he hath helm’d must upon a warranted need give him a better proclamation. Let him be but testified in his own bringings-forth, and he shall appear to the envious a scholar, a statesman and a soldier. Therefore you speak unskillfully. Or if your knowledge be more it is much darken’d in your malice.

Lucio

Sir, I know him and I love him.

Duke

Love talks with better knowledge and knowledge with dearer love.

Lucio

Come, sir, I know what I know.

Duke

I can hardly believe that, since you know not what you speak. But if ever the Duke return, as our prayers are he may, let me desire you to make your answer before him. If it be honest you have spoke, you have courage to maintain it. I am bound to call upon you and I pray you your name?

Lucio

Sir, my name is Lucio, well known to the Duke.

Duke

He shall know you better, sir, if I may live to report you.

Lucio

I fear you not.

Duke

O, you hope the Duke will return no more. Or you imagine me too unhurtful an opposite. But indeed I can do you little harm. You’ll forswear this again.

Lucio

I’ll be hang’d first. Thou art deceiv’d in me, friar. But no more of this. Canst thou tell if Claudio die tomorrow or no?

Duke

Why should he die, sir?

Lucio

Why? For filling a bottle with a tundish. I would the Duke we talk of were return’d again. This ungenitur’d agent will unpeople the province with continency. Sparrows must not build in his house-eaves because they are lecherous. The Duke yet would have dark deeds darkly answer’d, he would never bring them to light. Would he were return’d. Marry, this Claudio is condemn’d for untrussing. Farewell, good Friar. I prithee, pray for me. The Duke, I say to thee again, would eat mutton on Fridays and mouth with a beggar though she smelt brown bread and garlic. Say that I said so.

Exit Lucio
Duke  Nor might nor greatness in mortality can censure 'scape. What king so strong can tie the gall up in the slanderous tongue?

    Enter Escalus, Provost and Servant with Overdone

Escalus  Go, away with her to prison!
Overdone  Good my lord, be good to me. Your honour is accounted a merciful man. Good my lord.
Escalus  Double and treble admonition and still forfeit in the same kind! This would make mercy swear and play the tyrant.
Provost  A bawd of eleven years' continuance, may it please your honour.
Overdone  My lord, this is one Lucio's information against me. Mistress Kate Keepdown was with child by him in the Duke's time. He promis'd her marriage. His child is a year and a quarter old, come Philip and Jacob. I have kept it myself and see how he goes about to abuse me!
Escalus  That fellow is a fellow of much licence. Let him be call'd before us. Away with her to prison! Go to, no more words.

    Exeunt Officers with Overdone

Provost  So please you, this friar hath been with him and advis'd him for the entertainment of death.
Escalus  Good even, good Father.
Duke  Bliss and goodness on you!
Escalus  Of whence are you?
Duke  Not of this country, though my chance is now to use it for my time. I am a brother of gracious order, late come from Rome on special business from his Holiness.
Escalus  What news abroad i' the world?
Duke  None, but that there is so great a fever on goodness that the dissolution of it must cure it. Novelty only is in request and it is as dangerous to be aged in any kind of course as it is virtuous to be constant in any undertaking. Much upon this riddle runs the wisdom of the world. I pray you, sir, of what disposition was the Duke?

Escalus  One that, above all other strifes, contended especially to know himself.

Duke  What pleasure was he given to?

Escalus  Rather rejoicing to see another merry than merry at any thing which profess’d to make him rejoice. A gentleman of all temperance. But leave we him to his events, with a prayer they may prove prosperous, and let me desire to know how you find Claudio prepar’d.

Duke  He professes to have receiv’d no sinister measure from his judge, but most willingly humbles himself to the determination of justice. Yet had he fram’d to himself, by the instruction of his frailty, many deceiving promises of life which I by my good leisure have discredited to him and now is he resolv’d to die.

Escalus  You have paid the heavens your function and the prisoner the very debt of your calling. I have labour’d for the poor gentleman to the extremest shore of my modesty, but my brother justice have I found so severe that he hath forc’d me to tell him he is indeed Justice.

Duke  If his own life answer the straitness of his proceeding it shall become him well. Wherein if he chance to fail, he hath sentenc’d himself. Peace be with you!

Exeunt Duke and Escalus severally

Scene 12 (Act4 Sc1)

The Moated Grange

Mariana within

Mariana  [Singing, off]

A lady did a measure dance
And pleasure dwelt within her door
Yet what should be her circumstance
If to that measure add one more
Which way will her fortune go?
To joy or tears, to weal or woe
The balance tilts where’er it will
For virtue or for sudden ill
Now all hangs on the scales’ chance,
Now all hangs on the scales’ chance.

During this enter severally, Isabella and the Duke

Duke

Very well met and well come.
What is the news from this good deputy?

Isabella

He hath a garden circummur’d with brick whose western side is with a vineyard back’d.
And to that vineyard is a planched gate that makes his opening with this bigger key.
This other doth command a little door which from the vineyard to the garden leads.
There have I made my promise upon the heavy middle of the night to call upon him.

Duke

But shall you on your knowledge find this way?

Isabella

I have ta’en a due and wary note upon’t.
With whispering and most guilty diligence,
in action all of precept, he did show me
the way twice o’er.

Duke

Are there no other tokens between you ’greed concerning her observance?

Isabella

No, none, but only veil’d and i’ th’dark.
And that I have possess’d him my most stay can be but brief, for I have made him know
I have a servant comes with me along that stays upon me, whose persuasion is
I come about my brother.

Duke

’Tis well borne up.
I have not yet made known to Mariana a word of this. What, ho, within! Come forth!

Enter Mariana

Mariana

I cry you mercy, sir, and well could wish you found me not again so musical.
Let me excuse me and believe me so,
my mirth it much displeas’d, but pleas’d my woe.

Duke

’Tis good, though music oft hath such a charm
to make bad good and good provoke to harm.
I pray you, be acquainted with this maid.
She comes to do you good.

Isabella

I do desire the like.
Duke Do you persuade yourself that I respect you?

Mariana Good Friar, I know you do and so have found it.

Duke Take, then, this your companion by the hand who hath a story ready for your ear. I shall attend your leisure. But make haste, the vaporous night approaches.

Mariana Will’t please you walk aside?

Exeunt severally

Scene 13 (Act 4 Sc 2)

A Room in the Prison

Enter Provost and Pompey

Provost Come hither, sirrah. Can you cut off a man’s head?

Pompey If the man be a bachelor, sir, I can. But if he be a married man, he’s his wife’s head and I can never cut off a woman’s head.

Provost Come, sir, leave me your snatches and yield me a direct answer. Tomorrow morning are to die Claudio and Barnadine. Here is in our prison a common executioner who in his office lacks a helper. If you will take it on you to assist him it shall redeem you from your gyves. If not, you shall have your full time of imprisonment and your deliverance with an unpitied whipping, for you have been a notorious bawd.

Pompey Sir, I have been an unlawful bawd time out of mind, but yet I will be content to be a lawful hangman. I would be glad to receive some instruction from my fellow partner.

Provost What ho, Abhorson! Where’s Abhorson, there?

Enter Abhorson

Abhorson Do you call, sir?

Provost Sirrah, here’s a fellow will help you tomorrow in your execution. If you think it meet, compound with him by the year and let him abide here with you. If not, use him for the present and dismiss him. He cannot plead his estimation with you. He hath been a bawd.

Abhorson A bawd, sir? Fie upon him, he will discredit our mystery!

Provost Go to, sir, you weigh equally. A feather will turn the scale.
Exit Provost

Pompey  Pray, sir, by your good favour, do you call your occupation a mystery?

Abhorson  Ay, sir, a mystery.

Pompey  Painting, sir, I have heard say is a mystery. And your whores, sir, being members of my occupation, using painting, do prove my occupation a mystery. But what mystery there should be in hanging, if I should be hang’d I cannot imagine.

Abhorson  Sir, it is a mystery.

Re-enter Provost

Provost  Well, are you agreed?

Pompey  Sir, I will serve him. For I do find your hangman is a more penitent trade than your bawd. He doth oftener ask forgiveness.

Provost  You, sirrah, provide your block and your axe tomorrow eight o’clock.

Abhorson  Come on, bawd, I will instruct thee in my trade. Follow.

Pompey  I do desire to learn, sir. And I hope, if you have occasion to use me for your own turn, you shall find me yare. For truly, sir, for your kindness I owe you a good turn.

Exeunt

Scene 14

Angelo’s garden room with day-bed where Angelo awaits

Outside enter Duke, Isabella and Mariana (veiled)

Isabella  Little have you to say when you depart from him but, soft and low, ‘Remember now my brother’.

Mariana  Fear me not.

Duke  Nor, gentle daughter, fear you not at all. He is your husband on a pre-contract. To bring you thus together ’tis no sin sith that the justice of your title to him doth flourish the deceit. [Giving the key] Go, get you in.

Mariana enters the garden room. She and Angelo couple

Angelo  Isabel!
Mariana rises from him

Mariana
Remember now my brother.

Exit Mariana

Angelo, Duke and Isabella exeunt variously

Scene 15 (Act4 Sc2)
The Provost’s Office in the Prison
The Provost and the Officer

Provost
Call hither Barnadine and Claudio.

Exit Officer

The one has my pity, not a jot the other,
being a murderer, though he were my brother.

Enter Claudio

Look, here’s the warrant, Claudio, for thy death.
’Tis now dead midnight and by eight tomorrow
thou must be made immortal. Where’s Barnardine?

Claudio
As fast lock’d up in sleep as guiltless labour when it lies starkly in the traveller’s bones.
He will not wake.

Provost
Who can do good on him?
Well, go, prepare yourself.

Knocking within

But, hark, what noise?
Heaven give your spirits comfort!

Exit Claudio

I hope it is some pardon or reprieve for the most gentle Claudio.

Enter Duke

Welcome, Father.

Duke
The best and wholes’ most spirits of the night envelope you, good Provost. Who call’d here of late?

Provost
None since the curfew rung.

Duke
Not Isabel?

Provost
No.

Duke
Nor no countermand? ’Gainst Claudio’s execution?

Provost
None, sir, none.

Duke
As near the dawning, Provost, as it is you shall hear more ere morning.

Provost

Happily

you something know, yet I believe there comes no countermand. No such example have we.

Besides, upon the very siege of justice

Lord Angelo hath to the public ear

profess’d the contrary.

It is a bitter deputy.

Duke

Not so, not so. His life is parallel’d

even with the stroke and line of his great justice.

He doth with holy abstinence subdue

that in himself which he spurs on his power to qualify in others. Were he meal’d with that which he corrects then were he tyrannous.

But this being so, he’s just.

Enter Angelo’s Servant

This is his lordship’s man.

Servant

My lord hath sent you this note and by me this further charge, that you swerve not from the smallest article of it, neither in time, matter, or other circumstance. Good morrow, for as I take it it is almost day.

Provost

I shall obey him.

Exit Servant

Duke

Now, sir, what news?

Provost

[Reads] ‘Whatsoever you may hear to the contrary, let

Claudio be executed by four of the clock and in the afternoon Barnadine. For my better satisfaction let me have Claudio’s head sent me by five. Let this be duly perform’d with a thought that more depends on it than we must yet deliver. Thus fail not to do your office, as you will answer it at your peril.’ What say you to this, sir?

Duke

What is that Barnadine who is to be executed in the afternoon?

Provost

A Bohemian born, but here nurs’d up and bred. One that is a prisoner nine years old.

Duke

Hath he born himself penitently in prison? How seems he to be touch’d?

Provost

A man that apprehends death no more dreadfully but as a drunken sleep. Careless, reckless and fearless of what’s past, present or to come. Insensible of mortality and desperately mortal.

Duke
He wants advice.

Provost
He will hear none. He hath evermore had the liberty of the prison. Give him leave to escape hence, he would not. Drunk many times a day, if not many days entirely drunk. We have very oft awak’d him, as if to carry him to execution, and show’d him a seeming warrant for it. It hath not mov’d him at all.

Duke
There is written in your brow, Provost, honesty and constancy. If I read it not truly, my ancient skill beguiles me. Claudio, whom here you have warrant to execute, is no greater forfeit to the law than Angelo who hath sentenc’d him. To make you understand this, I crave but four days’ respite. For the which you are to do me both a present and a dangerous courtesy.

Provost
Pray, sir, in what?

Duke
In the delaying death.

Provost
Alack, how may I do it? Having the hour limited and an express command, under penalty, to deliver his head in the view of Angelo? I may make my case as Claudio’s, to cross this in the smallest.

Duke
By the vow of mine order I warrant you. Let this Barnadine be this morning executed and his head born to Angelo.

Provost
Angelo hath seen them both and will discover the favour.

Duke
O, death’s a great disguiser. And you may add to it – shave the head and tie the beard and say it was the desire of the penitent to be so bar’d before his death. You know the course is common. If any thing fall to you upon this, more than thanks and good fortune, by the saint whom I profess I will plead against it with my life.

Provost
Pardon me, good father, it is against my oath.

Duke
Were you sworn to the Duke or to the deputy?

Provost
To him and to his substitutes.

Duke
You will think you have made no offence, if the Duke avouch the justice of your dealing?

Provost
But what likelihood is in that?

Duke
Look you, sir, here is the hand and seal of the Duke. You know the character, I doubt not, and the signet is not strange to you.

Provost  I know them both.

Duke  The contents of this is the return of the Duke. Within these two days he will be here. This is a thing that Angelo knows not, for he this very day receives letters of strange tenor, perchance of the Duke’s death, perchance entering into some monastery, but by chance, nothing of what is writ. Look, the unfolding star calls up the shepherd. Call your executioner and off with Barnadine’s head. I will give him a present shrift and advise him for a better place. Yet you are amaz’d, but this shall absolutely resolve you. Come away, it is almost clear dawn.

Scene 16 (Act4 Sc3)

The same, later

Enter Pompey

Pompey  I am as well acquainted here as I was in our house of profession. One would think it were Mistress Overdone’s own house, for here be many of her old customers.

Enter Abhorson

Abhorson  Sirrah, bring Barnadine hither.

Pompey  Master Barnadine! You must rise and be hang’d, Master Barnadine!

Abhorson  What ho, Barnadine!

Barnadine  [Within] A pox o’ your throats! Who makes that noise there? What are you?

Pompey  Your friends, sir, the hangman. You must be so good, sir, to rise and be put to death.

Abhorson  Tell him he must awake and that quickly too.

Pompey  Pray, Master Barnadine, awake till you are executed and sleep afterwards.

Abhorson  Go in to him and fetch him out.

Pompey  He is coming, sir, he is coming. I hear his straw rustle.

Abhorson  Is the axe upon the block, sirrah?
Pompey

Very ready, sir.

Enter Barnadine

Barnadine

How now, Abhorson? What’s the news with you?

Abhorson

Truly, sir, I would desire you to clap into your prayers. For, look you, the warrant’s come.

Barnadine

You rogue, I have been drinking all night. I am not fitted for ’t.

Pompey

O, the better, sir. For he that drinks all night and is hang’d betimes in the morning may sleep the sounder all the next day.

Abhorson

Look you, sir, here comes your ghostly father. Do we jest now, think you?

Enter Duke

Duke

Sir, induc’d by my charity and hearing how hastily you are to depart, I am come to advise you, comfort you and pray with you.

Barnadine

Friar, not I. I have been drinking hard all night and I will have more time to prepare me, or they shall beat out my brains with billets. I will not consent to die this day, that’s certain.

Duke

O, sir, you must. And therefore I beseech you look forward on the journey you shall go.

Barnadine

I swear I will not die today for any man’s persuasion.

Duke

But hear you –

Enter Provost

Barnadine

Not a word. If you have any thing to say to me, come to my ward, for thence will not I today.

Duke

Unfit to live or die. O gravel heart!

Provost

After him, fellows. Bring him to the block.

Exeunt Abhorson and Pompey

Now, sir, how do you find the prisoner?

Duke

A creature unprepar’d, unmeet for death and to transport him in the mind he is were damnable.

Provost

Here in the prison, Father, there died this morning of a cruel fever one Ragozine, a most notorious pirate.
A man of Claudio’s years, his beard and head just of his colour. What if we do reprieve this reprobate till he were well inclin’d and satisfy the Deputy with the visage of Ragozine, more like to Claudio?

Duke
O, ’tis an accident that Heaven provides!
Dispatch it presently. The hour draws on prefix’d by Angelo. See this be done and sent according to command, whiles I persuade this rude wretch willingly to die.

Provost
I am your free dependant.

Exit Provost

Duke
This falls out well. My officers I’ll desire to meet me at the consecrated fount, a league below the city. And from thence,
by cold gradation and well-balanc’d form,
we shall proceed with Angelo.

Re-enter Provost

Provost
Here is the head. I’ll carry it myself.

Duke
Convenient is it. Make a swift return, for I would commune with you of such things that want no ear but yours.

Provost
I’ll make all speed.

Isabella
[Within] Peace, ho, be here!

Duke
The tongue of Isabel. She’s come to know if yet her brother’s pardon be come hither.

Exit Provost

But I will keep her ignorant of her good to make her heavenly comforts of despair when it is least expected.

Enter Isabella

Duke
Good morning to you, fair and gracious daughter.

Isabella
The better, given me by so holy a man.
Hath yet the deputy sent my brother’s pardon?

Duke
He hath releas’d him, Isabel, from the world.
His head is off and sent to Angelo.

Isabella
Nay, but it is not so.

Duke
It is no other. Show your wisdom, daughter, in your close patience.

Isabella  O, I will to him and pluck out his eyes!
Duke    You shall not be admitted to his sight.
Isabella Unhappy Claudio! Wretched Isabel! Injurious world! Most damned Angelo!
Duke     This nor hurts him nor profits you a jot. Forbear it therefore. Give your cause to Heaven. Mark what I say, which you shall find by every syllable a faithful verity. The Duke comes home tomorrow – nay, dry your eyes – one of our convent and his confessor, gives me this instance. Already he hath carried notice to Escalus and Angelo who do prepare to meet him at the gates, there to give up their power. Only pace your wisdom in that good path that I would wish it go and you shall have your bosom on this wretch, grace of the Duke, revenges to your heart, and general honour.

Isabella  I am directed by you.
Duke    This letter, then, to Friar Thomas give. Say, by this token, I desire his company at Mariana’s house tonight. ’Tis he shall bring you before the Duke and to the head of Angelo accuse him home and home. For my poor self, I am combined by a sacred vow and shall be absent. Command these fretting waters from your eyes with a light heart. Trust not my holy order if I pervert your course.

Enter Lucio

Lucio    Good even. Friar, where’s the provost?
Duke   Not within, sir.
Lucio O pretty Isabella, I am pale at mine heart to see thine eyes so red. Thou must be patient. I am fain to dine and sup with water and bran. I dare not for my head fill my belly. One fruitful meal would set me to ’t. But they say the Duke will be here tomorrow. By my troth, Isabel, I lov’d thy brother. If the old fantastical Duke of dark corners had been at home, he had liv’d.
Exit Isabella

Duke Sir, the Duke is marvellous little beholding to your reports, but the best is he lives not in them.

Lucio Friar, thou know’st not the Duke so well as I do. He’s a better woodman than thou tak’st him for.

Duke Well, you’ll answer this one day. Fare ye well.

Lucio Nay, tarry, I’ll go along with thee. I can tell thee pretty tales of the Duke.

Duke You have told me too many of him already, sir, if they be true. If not true, none were enough.

Lucio I was once before him for getting a wench with child.

Duke Did you such a thing?

Lucio Yes, marry did I, but I was fain to forswear it. They would else have married me to the rotten medlar.

Duke Sir, your company is fairer than honest. Rest you well.

Lucio By my troth, I’ll go with thee to the lane’s end. If bawdy talk offend you we’ll have very little of it. Nay, friar, I am a kind of burr, I shall stick.

Exeunt

Scene 17 (Act4 Sc4)

A room in Angelo’s house

Angelo and Escalus

Escalus Every letter he hath writ hath disvouch’d other.

Angelo In most uneven and distracted manner. His actions show much like to madness. Pray heaven his wisdom be not tainted. And why meet him at the gates and redeliver our authorities there?

Escalus I guess not.

Angelo And why should we proclaim it in an hour before his entering, that if any crave redress of injustice they should exhibit their petitions in the street?

Escalus He shows his reason for that. To have a dispatch of complaints and to deliver us from devices hereafter, which shall then have no power to stand against us.

Angelo Well, I beseech you, let it be proclaim’d betimes i’ the morn. I’ll call you at your house. Give notice to such men of sort and suit as are to meet him.

Escalus
I shall, sir. Fare you well.

Exit Escalus

Angelo
This deed unshapes me quite, makes me unpregnant and dull to all proceedings. A deflower’d maid, and by an eminent body that enforc’d the law against it! But that her tender shame will not proclaim against her maiden loss how might she tongue me! Yet reason dares her no, for my authority bears so credent bulk that no particular scandal once can touch but it confounds the breather. He should have liv’d, save that riotous youth with dangerous sense might in the times to come have ta’en revenge by so receiving a dishonour’d life with ransom of such shame. Would yet he had liv’d! Alack, when once our grace we have forgot nothing goes right. We would and we would not.

Exit

Scene 18 (Act 4 Sc 6/Act 5 Sc 1)

Near the City Gate

A trumpet sounds. Enter Isabella and Mariana

Isabella
To speak so indirectly I am loathe. I would speak truth, but to accuse him so, that is your part. Yet I am advis’d to do it, he says, to veil full purpose.

Mariana
Be rul’d by him.

Isabella
Besides, he tells me that, if peradventure Friar Thomas speak against me, I should not think it strange, for ’tis a physic that’s bitter to sweet end.

A second trumpet sounds. Enter Friar Thomas, followed by Lucio, Provost and others, severally

Mariana
O, peace! The Friar is come.

Friar
Come, here is a stand most fit where you may have such vantage on the Duke he shall not pass you. Twice have the trumpets sounded.
The generous and gravest citizens are hent the gates and very near upon the Duke is entering.

Enter the Duke aside, meeting Angelo and Escalus

Duke    My very worthy cousin, fairly met.
         Our old and faithful friend, we are glad to see you.

Ang & Esc.  Happy return be to your royal grace!

Duke    Many and hearty thankings to you both.
         We have made inquiry of you and we hear such goodness of your justice that our soul cannot but yield you forth to public thanks, forerunning more requital.

Angelo  You make my bonds still greater.

Duke    O, but your desert speaks loud and I should wrong it to lock it in the wards of covert bosom
         when it deserves, with characters of brass,
         a forted residence ‘gainst the tooth of time and razure of oblivion. Give me your hand, and let the subject see, to make them know that outward courtesies would fain proclaim favours that keep within. Come, Escalus, you must walk by us on our other hand
         and good supporters are you.

Friar    Now is your time. Speak loud and kneel before him.

Isabella  Justice, O royal Duke! Vail your regard upon a wrong’d – I would fain have said, a maid.
         O worthy prince, dishonour not your eye
         by throwing it on any other object till you have heard me in my true complaint and given me justice! Justice, justice, justice!

         Here is Lord Angelo shall give you justice.
         Reveal yourself to him.

Isabella  O worthy Duke,
         you bid me seek redemption of the devil.
         Hear me yourself. For that which I must speak must either punish me, not being believ’d, or wring redress from you. Hear me, O hear me, hear!

Angelo

My lord, her wits I fear me are not firm.
She hath been a suitor to me for her brother,
cut off by course of justice –

Isabella

By course of justice!

Angelo

And she will speak most bitterly and strange.

Isabella

Most strange, but yet most truly will I speak.
That Angelo’s forsworn, is it not strange?
That Angelo’s a murderer, is’t not strange?
That Angelo is an adulterous thief,
an hypocrite, a virgin-violator,
is it not strange and strange?

Duke

Nay, it is ten times strange.

Isabella

It is not truer he is Angelo than this is all as true as it is strange.
Nay, it is ten times true, for truth is truth
to the end of reckoning.

Duke

Away with her, poor soul,
she speaks this in the infirmity of sense.

Isabella

O prince, I conjure thee, as thou believ’st
there is another comfort than this world, that thou neglect me not with that opinion that I am touch’d with madness. Make not impossible that which but seems unlike. ‘Tis not impossible
but one, the wicked’st caitiff on the ground, may seem as shy, as grave, as just, as absolute as Angelo. Even so may Angelo in all his dressings, characts, titles, forms, be an arch-villain. Believe it, royal prince,
if he be less he’s nothing. But he’s more,
had I more name for badness.

Duke

By mine honesty,
If she be mad – as I believe no other –
her madness hath the oddest frame of sense, such a dependency of thing on thing
as e’er I heard in madness.

Isabella

O gracious Duke,
harp not on that, nor do not banish reason for inequality, but let your reason serve to make the truth appear where it seems hid and hide the false seems true.

Duke

Many that are not mad have, sure, more lack of reason. What would you say?

Isabella

I am the sister of one Claudio, condemn’d upon the act of fornication to lose his head. Condemn’d by Angelo.
I, in probation of a sisterhood, was sent to by my brother – one Lucio
as then the messenger –

Lucio

That’s I, an’t like your Grace.
I came to her from Claudio and desir’d her to try her gracious fortune with Lord Angelo for her poor brother’s pardon.

Isabella

That’s he indeed.

Duke

You were not bid to speak.

Lucio

No, my good lord.
Nor wish’d to hold my peace.

Duke

I wish you now, then.
Pray you, take note of it and when you have a business for yourself pray Heaven you then be perfect.

Lucio

I warrant your honour.

Duke

The warrants for yourself. Take heed to’t.

Isabella

This gentleman told somewhat of my tale –

Lucio

Right.

Duke

It may be right, but you are i’ the wrong to speak before your time. Proceed.

Isabella

I went to this pernicious caitiff deputy –

Duke

That’s somewhat madly spoken.

Isabella

Pardon it,
the phrase is to the matter.

Duke

Mended again. The matter, proceed.

Isabella

In brief, to set the needless process by,
how I persuaded, how I pray’d and kneel’d,
how he refell’d me and how I replied –
for this was of much length – the vile conclusion
I now begin with grief and shame to utter.
He would not, but by gift of my chaste body to his concupiscible intemperate lust, release my brother. And after much debatement my sisterly remorse confutes mine honour and I did yield to him. But the next morn betimes, his purpose surfeiting, he sends a warrant for my poor brother’s head.

Duke

This is most likely!

Isabella

O, that it were as like as it is true!

Duke

By heaven, fond wretch, thou know’st not what thou speak’st, or else thou art suborn’d against his honour in hateful practice. First, his integrity stands without blemish. Next, it imports no reason that with such vehemency he should pursue faults proper to himself. If he had so offended, he would have weigh’d thy brother by himself and not have cut him off. Some one hath set you on.
Confess the truth and say by whose advice thou cam’st here to complain.

Isabella

And is this all?

Then, O you blessed ministers above,
keep me in patience and with ripen’d time unfold the evil which is here wrapt up in countenance. Heaven shield your Grace from woe, as I, thus wrong’d, hence unbelieved go.

Duke

I know you’d fain be gone. An officer to prison with her! Shall we thus permit
A blasting and a scandalous breath to fall on him so near us? This needs must be a practice.
Who knew of your intent and coming hither?

Isabella

One that I would were here, Friar Lodowick.

Duke

A ghostly father, belike. Who knows that Lodowick?

Lucio

My lord, I know him. ’Tis a meddling friar.
I do not like the man. Had he been lay, my lord, for certain words he spake against your Grace
in your retirement, I had swing’d him soundly.

Duke

Words against me? This is a good friar, belike!
And to set on this wretched woman here against our substitute! Let this friar be found.

Lucio But yesternight, my lord, she and that friar,
I saw them at the prison. A saucy friar,
a very scurvy fellow.

Friar My Lord, I know him for a man divine and holy,
not scurvy, nor a temporary meddler
as he’s reported by this gentleman.

Duke Bring him before me.

Friar At this instant Lodowick is sick my lord, of a strange fever. Upon his mere request, being come to knowledge that there was complaint intended ‘gainst Lord Angelo, came I hither to speak, as from his mouth, what he doth know is true and false. First, for this woman:
to justify this worthy nobleman,
so vulgarly and personally accus’d,
her shall you hear disproved to her eyes till she herself confess it.

Duke Good friar, let’s hear it.
Do you not smile at this, Lord Angelo?
O Heaven, the vanity of wretched fools!
Give us some seats. Come, cousin Angelo.
In this I’ll be impartial. Be you judge of your own cause. Is this the witness, Friar?
First, let her show her face and after speak.

Mariana Pardon, my lord, I will not show my face until my husband bid me.

Duke What, are you married?

Mariana No, my lord.

Duke Are you a maid?

Mariana No, my lord.

Duke A widow, then?

Mariana Neither, my lord.

Duke Why, you are nothing then. Neither maid, widow, nor wife.

Lucio My lord, she may be a punk. For many of them are neither maid, widow, nor wife.

Duke Silence that fellow. I would he had some cause to prattle for himself.

Lucio  Well, my lord.

Mariana  My lord, I do confess I ne’er was married and I confess besides I am no maid.
I have known my husband, yet my husband knows not that ever he knew me.

Lucio  He was drunk then, my lord, it can be no better.

Duke  For the benefit of silence, would thou wert so too!

Lucio  Well, my lord.

Duke  This is no witness for Lord Angelo.

Mariana  Now I come to’t my lord.
She that accuses him of fornication in selfsame manner doth accuse my husband and charges him, my lord, with such a time when I’ll depose I had him in mine arms with all the effect of love.

Angelo  Charges she more than me?

Mariana  Not that I know.

Duke  No? You say your husband.

Mariana  Why just, my lord, and that is Angelo,
who thinks he knows that he ne’er knew my body
but knows he thinks that he knows Isabel’s.

Angelo  This is a strange abuse. Let’s see thy face.

Mariana  My husband bids me. Now I will unmask.
[Unveiling] This is that face, thou cruel Angelo, which once thou swor’st was worth the looking on.
This is the hand which, with a vow’d contract, was fast belock’d in thine. This is the body that took away the match from Isabel and did supply thee at thy garden-house in her imagin’d person.

Duke  Know you this woman?

Lucio  Carnally, she says.

Duke  Sirrah, no more!

Lucio  Enough, my lord.

Angelo  My lord, I must confess I know this woman and five years since there was some speech of marriage betwixt myself and her which was broke off, partly for that her promis’d proportions came short of composition, but in chief for that her reputation was disvalu’d in levity. Since which time of five years I never spake with her, saw her, nor heard from her, upon my faith and honour.

Mariana Noble prince, as there comes light from heaven and words from breath, as there is sense in truth and truth in virtue, I am affianc’d this man’s wife as strongly as words could make up vows. And, my good lord, but Tuesday night last gone in’s garden-house he knew me as a wife.

Angelo I did but smile till now. Now, good my lord, give me the scope of justice, my patience here is touch’d. I do perceive these poor informal women are no more but instruments of some more mightier member that sets them on. Let me have way, my lord, to find this practice out.

Duke Ay, with my heart and punish them to your height of pleasure. Thou foolish Friar, and thou pernicious woman, compact with her before, think’st thou thy oaths, though they would swear down each particular saint, were testimonies against his worth and credit that’s seal’d in approbation? You, Lord Escalus, sit with my cousin. Lend him your kind pains to find out this abuse, whence ’tis deriv’d. There is another friar that set them on. Provost, fetch him hither.

Exit Provost

And you, my noble and well-warranted cousin, whom it concerns to hear this matter forth, do with your injuries as seems you best in any chastisement. I for a while will leave you. But stir not you till you have well determin’d upon these slanderers.

Escalus My lord, we’ll do it throughly.
Signior Lucio, did not you say you knew that Friar Lodowick to be a dishonest person?

Lucio

‘Cucullus non facit monachum’ — honest in nothing but in his clothes. And one that hath spoke most villainous speeches of the Duke.

Escalus

We shall entreat you to abide here till he come and enforce them against him. We shall find this friar a notable fellow.

Lucio

As any in Vienna, on my word.

Escalus

Call that same Isabel. I would speak with her. Pray you, my lord, give me leave to question. You shall see how I’ll handle her.

Lucio

Not better than he, by her own report.

Escalus

Say you?

Lucio

Marry, sir, I think if you handl’d her privately she would sooner confess. Perchance, publicily, she’ll be asham’d.

Escalus

I will go darkly to work with her.

Lucio

That’s the way, for women are light at midnight.

Escalus

Come on, mistress. Here’s a gentlewoman denies all that you have said.

Enter Provost with Duke, hooded as friar

Lucio

My lord, here comes the rascal I spoke of. Here with the Provost.

Escalus

In very good time. Speak not you to him till we call upon you.

Lucio

Mum.

Escalus

Come, sir. Did you set these women on to slander Lord Angelo? They have confess’d you did.

Duke

’Tis false.

Escalus

How? Know you where you are?

Duke

Respect to your great place – and let the devil be sometime honour’d for his burning throne. Where is the Duke? ’Tis he should hear me speak.

Escalus

The Duke’s in us, and we will hear you speak. Look you speak justly.

Duke

Boldly, at least. But, O, poor souls, come you to seek the lamb here of the fox?
Good night to your redress. Is the Duke gone?
Then is your cause gone too. The Duke’s unjust, thus to retort your manifest appeal and put your trial in the villain’s mouth which here you come to accuse.

Lucio
This is the rascal. This is he I spoke of.

Escalus
Why, thou unreverend and unhallow’d Friar, is’t not enough thou hast suborn’d these women t’accuse this worthy man, but in foul mouth and in the witness of his proper ear to call him villain? And then to glance from him to the Duke himself, to tax him with injustice?
Take him hence, to the rack with him! We’ll touse you joint by joint, but we will know his purpose.
What, ‘unjust’?

Duke
Be not so hot. The Duke dare no more stretch this finger of mine than he dare rack his own. His subject am I not, nor here provincial. My business in this state made me a looker-on here in Vienna where I have seen corruption boil and bubble till it o’er-run the stew –

Escalus
Slander to the state! Away with him to prison!

Angelo
What can you vouch against him, Signior Lucio?
Is this the man that you did tell us of?

Lucio
’Tis he, my lord. Come hither, goodman baldpate. Do you know me?

Duke
I remember you, sir, by the sound of your voice. I met you at the prison in the absence of the Duke.

Lucio
O, did you so? And do you remember what you said of the Duke?

Duke
Most notably, sir.

Lucio
Do you so, sir? And was the Duke a fleshmonger, a fool, and a coward, as you then reported him to be?

Duke
You must, sir, change persons with me ere you make that my report. You, indeed, spoke so of him and much more, much worse.
Lucio  O thou damnable fellow! Did not I pluck thee by the nose for thy speeches?

Duke  I protest I love the Duke as I love myself.

Angelo  Hark, how the villain would close now after his treasonable abuses!

Escalus  Such a fellow is not to be talk’d withal. Where is the Provost? Away with him to prison. Lay bolts enough upon him, let him speak no more. Away with those giglots too, and with the other confederate companion!

Angelo  What, resists he? Help him, Lucio.

Lucio  Come, sir! Come, sir! Come, sir! Foh, sir! Why, you bald-pated, lying rascal, you must be hooded, must you? Show your knave’s visage, with a pox to you! Show your sheep-biting face and be hang’d an hour! Will’t not off?

He pulls off the Friar’s hood and discovers the Duke

Duke  Thou art the first knave that e’er mad’st a Duke. First, Provost, let me bail these gentle three. [To Lucio] Sneak not away, sir, for the Friar and you must have a word anon. Lay hold on him.

Lucio  [Aside] This may prove worse than hanging.

Duke  [To Escalus] What you have spoke I pardon. Sit you down. We’ll borrow place of him. [To Angelo] Sir, by your leave. Hast thou or word, or wit, or impudence that yet can do thee office?

Angelo  O my dread lord,

I should be guiltier than my guiltiness to think I can be undiscernible
when I perceive your Grace, like power divine, hath look’d upon my passes. Then, good prince,
no longer session hold upon my shame
but let my trial be mine own confession.
Immediate sentence then and sequent death is all the grace I beg.

Duke  Come hither, Mariana.

Say, wast thou e’er contracted to this woman?

Angelo  I was, my lord.

Duke  Go, take her hence and marry her instantly.
Do you the office, Friar, which consummate return him here again. Go with him, Provost.

Exeunt Angelo, Mariana, Friar and Provost

Escalus
My lord, I am more amaz`d at his dishonour than at the strangeness of it.

Duke
Come hither, Isabel.
Your Friar is now your prince. As I was then, advertising and holy to your business, not changing heart with habit, I am still attorney`d at your service.

Isabella
O, give me pardon, that I, your vassal, have employ`d and pain`d your unknown sovereignty.

Duke
You are pardon`d, Isabel.
And now, dear maid, be you as free to us.
Your brother`s death, I know, sits at your heart and you may marvel why I obscur`d myself, lab`ring to save his life, and would not rather make rash remonstrance of my hidden power than let him so be lost. O most kind maid, it was the swift celerity of his death which I did think with slower foot came on that brain`d my purpose. But, peace be with him.
That life is better life, past fearing death,
than that which lives to fear. Make it your comfort,
so happy is your brother.

Isabella
I do, my lord.

Re-enter Angelo, Mariana, Friar and Provost

Duke
For this new-married man approaching here, whose salt imagination yet hath wrong`d
your well defended honour, you must pardon for Mariana`s sake. But as he adjudg`d your brother the very mercy of the law cries out most audible, even from his proper tongue, `An Angelo for a Claudio, death for death.
Haste still pays haste and leisure answers leisure.
Like doth quit like, and Measure still for Measure.`

Enter Abhorson and Pompey, as executioners

Angelo, we do condemn thee to the very block where Claudio stoop’d to death and with like haste.
Away with him.

Mariana
O my most gracious lord,
I hope you will not mock me with a husband.

Duke
It is your husband mock’d you with a husband.
Consenting to the safeguard of your honour
I thought your marriage fit, else imputation, for that he knew you, might reproach your life and choke your good to come. For his possessions, although by confiscation they are ours,
we do instate and widow you withal
to buy you a better husband.

Mariana
O my dear lord,
I crave no other, nor no better man.

Duke
Never crave him, we are definitive.

Mariana
Gentle my liege –

Duke
You do but lose your labour.
Away with him to death. [To Lucio] Now, sir, to you.

Mariana
O my good lord! – Sweet Isabel, take my part.
Lend me your knees and all my life to come
I’ll lend you all my life to do you service.

Duke
Against all sense you do importune her.
Should she kneel down in mercy of this fact hers brother’s ghost his paved bed would break and take her hence in horror.

Mariana Isabel,
sweet Isabel, do yet but kneel by me.
Hold up your hands, say nothing, I’ll speak all.
They say best men are moulded out of faults and, for the most, become much more the better for being a little bad. So may my husband.
O Isabel, will you not lend a knee?

Duke
He dies for Claudio’s death.

Isabella
[Kneeling] Most bounteous sir, look, if it please you, on this man condemn’d as if my brother liv’d. I partly think a due sincerity govern’d his deeds till he did look on me. Since it is so, let him not die. My brother had but justice in that he did the thing for which he died.
For Angelo,
his act did not o’ertake his bad intent and must be buried but as an intent that perish’d by the way. Thoughts are no subjects, intents but merely thoughts.

Mariana  Merely, my lord.
Duke Your suit’s unprofitable. Stand up, I say.
I have bethought me of another fault.
Provost, how came it Claudio was beheaded at an unusual hour?

Provost It was commanded so.
Duke Had you a special warrant for the deed?
Provost No, my good lord, it was by private message.
Duke For which I do discharge you of your office.
Give up your keys.
Provost Pardon me, noble lord.
I thought it was a fault, but knew it not.
Yet did repent me after more advice
For testimony whereof, one in the prison that should by private order else have died
I have reserv’d alive.

Duke What’s he?
Provost His name is Barnadine.
Duke I would thou hadst done so by Claudio.
Go fetch him hither. Let me look upon him.

Escalus I am sorry one so learned and so wise
as you, Lord Angelo, have still appear’d, should slip so grossly, both in the heat of blood and lack of temper’d judgment afterward.

Angelo I am sorry that such sorrow I procure and so deep sticks it in my penitent heart that I crave death more willingly than mercy.
’Tis my deserving, and I do entreat it.

Re-enter Provost, with Barnadine and Claudio both muffled for execution

Duke Which is that Barnadine?
Provost

[Unmuffling him] This, my lord.

Duke
There was a Friar told me of this man.
Sirrah, thou art said to have a stubborn soul that apprehends no further than this world and squar’st thy life according. Thou’rt condemn’d, but for those earthly faults I quit them all and pray thee take this mercy to provide for better times to come. Friar, advise him,
I leave him to your hand. What muffl’d fellow’s that?

Provost
This is another prisoner that I sav’d who should have died when Claudio lost his head,
as like almost to Claudio as himself.

Unmuffles Claudio

Duke
[To Isabella.] If he be like your brother, for his sake is he pardon’d. And, for your lovely sake, give me your hand and say you will be mine,
he is my brother too. But fitter time for that.
By this, Lord Angelo perceives he’s safe.
Methinks I see a quickening in his eye.
Well, Angelo, your evil quits you well.
Look that you love your wife, her worth worth yours.
I find an apt remission in myself and yet here’s one in place I cannot pardon.
[To Lucio] You, sirrah, that knew me for a fool, a coward, one all of luxury, an ass, a madman.
Wherein have I so deserv’d of you,
that you extol me thus?

Lucio
‘Faith, my lord, I spoke it but according to the trick. If you will hang me for it, you may, but I had rather it would please you I might be whipp’d.

Duke
Whipp’d first, sir, and hang’d after.
Proclaim it, Provost, round about the city.
If any woman wrong’d by this lewd fellow,
as I have heard him swear himself there’s one whom he begot with child, let her appear and he shall marry her. The nuptial finish’d, let him be whipp’d and hang’d.

Lucio
I beseech your highness, do not marry me to a whore.
Your highness said even now I made you a Duke. Good my lord, do not recompense me in making me a cuckold.
Duke

Upon mine honour, thou shalt marry her. Thy slanders I forgive and therewithal remit thy other forfeits. Take him to prison and see our pleasure herein executed.

Lucio

Marrying a punk, my lord, is pressing to death, whipping, and hanging.

Duke

Slander ing a prince deserves it.

Exit Officers with Lucio

She, Claudio, that you wrong’d, look you restore. Joy to you, Mariana! Love her, Angelo. I have confess’d her and I know her virtue. Thanks, good friend Escalus, for thy much goodness. There’s more behind that is more gratulate. Thanks, Provost, for thy care and secrecy. We shall employ thee in a worthier place. Forgive him, Angelo, that brought you home the head of Ragozine for Claudio’s. The offence pardons itself. Dear Isabel, I have a motion much imports your good, whereto if you’ll a willing ear incline, what’s mine is yours and what is yours is mine.
